NEW YORK, April 16.—The stock market closed irregularly lower today after a series of confused price movements. Pools succeeded in marking up more than a score of issues were under pressure, with the selling reaching sufficient proportions in the late trading to give the market a reactionary appearance. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume, the day's sales running around 4,400, 499 shares, with the ticker keeping well abreast of the market.Selling of American Telephone, which closed nearly 10 points lower at 25 3/4, on the long-awaited offering of valuable stock purchase "rights" was the chief causing factor. One share may be bought for each six held. Radio also fell well. There was report that the authorized and outstanding stock of the corporation would be increased, and the increased stock given to General Electric and Westinghouse in exchange for their radio manufacturing business, royalties and patents. General Electric closed 13 points lower at 109 1/2, and Westinghouse dropped 2 1/2 points to 19 1/4, presumably in response to reports that the radio rights received would be held in the company and not distributed to stockholders.Business News Mixed.—
The day's business news was mixed. One of the most unfavorable developments was the March trade figures, which showed a decline of $116,000,000 from the same month of last year, and a decline of $14,000,000 in imports. Steel production showed a moderate increase and foreign sales of copper were the largest of any single day since September, although domestic output continued rather quiet, probably because consumers have not yet had sufficient time to react to the lower prices for the metal.Call Money Easier.— Credit conditions were somewhat eased. Call money developed an unexpectedly easier undertone in the afternoon when the rate was lowered to 3 1/2 per cent from the usual rate of 4. Time money was unchanged, and was commonly quoted at 6 per cent. Bankers' notes, however, developed strength and dealers announced the first increase in rates in about two weeks.Advance of 1/4 to 1 per cent makes the new asking rate 3 per cent for 30, 60 and 90-day maturities, 2 1/2 for 4 months and 3 1/4 per cent for the longer bills.Commodity markets displayed a much stronger undertone. Wheat advanced 1 1/2 to 2 1/4 cents a bushel in response to excellent export trade, and bullish Government weather reports. Corn advanced 1 cent to $1.50 to $2 a bushel.Allied Chemical ran up 10 1/2 points in the early trading, but lost more than 3 points of its gain. Eastman Kodak lost about one-third of its early gain of more than 8 points. An early gain of 9 points in J. I. Case was more than cut in the afternoon.Chester Cab was heavily sold in the late trading, closing 8 1/2 points lower with Rupp, Timken and some of the other rubber and accessory shares dropping 1 to nearly 4 points. Hudson Motors touched a low of 52 1/2.Roads were weak from the start.
Southern Railway dropped more than 5 points to a new low. New York Central dropped 3 1/4, and New Haven, Norfolk & Western, Atchison & Chicago & Eastern Illinois preferred closed with net declines of 2 points or more.Stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on pages 12C, 13C, 14C

BANK UNDECIDED ON PROSECUTING OUSTED CASHIER

Confidence Appears to Have Been Restored in Edwardsville Depository—Business Normal.

SOME CUSTOMERS REDEPOSIT MONEY

Frank B. Sanders' System of Operation in Misappropriation of $143,000 in Doubt.

Confidence in the Bank of Edwardsville appeared to be restored today after a disturbing banking session yesterday when many citizens of Edwardsville and surrounding communities withdrew their money as the result of a $143,000 shortage in the accounts of its cashier, Frank B. Sanders.

When the doors opened this morning, the bank was prepared to meet any demands of its customers, but only the usual number appeared to transact ordinary business. A number of persons who had taken cash home yesterday returned with their money.

Thomas Williamson, a director of the bank and former United States District Attorney at Springfield, Ill., said today that Sanders had given the bank a second mortgage for $20,000 on his Wood River Theater, bringing the total amount restored to $110,000, including $40,000 in cash and $40,000 in securities previously announced.

Williamson said that the board of directors had no agreement with Sanders to withhold prosecution in exchange for his promise of restitution. The question of prosecution, Williamson said, had not been discussed by the directors and will be considered by them in the next few days. Sanders' surety bond is more than sufficient to cover the balance of the shortage, he declared.

Exact System in Doubt. George W. Meyer, president of the bank, declined to amplify the announcement he made yesterday, when attempting to restore confidence, that Sanders had misappropriated $143,000, used it to finance a chain of motion picture theaters and other business ventures, and that the bank had been reimbursed in part by Sanders and in part by the directors.

It was learned today that the directors had not determined as yet exactly what Sanders' methods were in hiding his peculations beyond the knowledge that part of the money was appropriated by hypotecating securities deposited with the bank as collateral by borrowers.

State bank examiners, called in last week when the shortage was suspected, hurriedly cast a balance and reported to the directors that "cash on hand" was short $142,000, without attempting to trace the shortage to specific transactions.

Sanders, who has been discharged, reiterated his general denial of the accusation today and declined to discuss the contents of the accusation today and declined to discuss the contents of the accusation today.

Prosecuting Attorney Bohm of Madison County has announced that he will take no action against the cashier unless a request is made by President Meyer.

Sanders is president and principal owner of the United Operating Co., which owned the Wilkey Theater in Edwardsville, the Princess Theater in Alton and the Wood River Theater in Wood River, the latter a building worth more than $100,000. Arrangements were made recently to sell the Alton Theater to the Paramount interests for $50,000.

Active in Politics. In addition to the theater interests, Sanders owns a pretentious two-story brick residence on a large lot at Lane avenue and Fourth street where he lives with his mother, wife and son. The home is assessed on the tax books at $5750.

Sanders has been active in politics and served a term as Public Administrator several years ago. He is 42 years old and began his career with the bank when 20 years old as a messenger and general utility man, rising to the post of cashier 10 years ago.

Because of the heavy withdrawals from the bank yesterday, Chief of Police Kelly took special precautions against crime last night, ordering his entire force of 10 men to patrol the streets and swearing in 10 special policemen. The patrolmen walked in the residential districts, where citizens were thought to have cash in their homes, questioning loiterers and, after midnight, suggested to pedestrians that they go home and to bed.

The amount of the shortage represented all but $7000 of the bank's capitalization, $150,000. The bank also has a surplus of $150,000, total resources in excess of $2,000,000, and deposits of about $2,700,000.

$427,213 SPENT IN CAMPAIGN TO REPEL DRY LAW

you?" Senator Blaine asked. "No, but I'd like to put Senator Brookhart on our pay roll," Curran remarked as the audience burst into laughter. Brookhart, Republican Senator from Iowa, is an outspoken advocate of prohibition.

Counts Brookhart an Ally. Senator Curran at this point accused the witness of "trying to be funny." Curran denied this.

"Why drag in the name of Senator Brookhart?" Curran demanded. "I'm sorry, but I'd like to read you a letter about Senator Brookhart," Curran replied, holding aloft a typewritten letter.

Curran refused permission and Curran remarked that it was a "short letter" and a "nice letter." Pressed by Curran to explain his remark about Brookhart, the witness replied that every time Brookhart made a speech for prohibition it turned thousands of people against prohibition.

Curran asked if the association made direct contribution to candidates for public office. "Yes," Curran said.

He added that the association had given $1500 to the Liberal City League of Massachusetts, which supported a wet candidate in the Western Massachusetts election recently.

Not for Butler. "Curran read from a list of expenditures of the association an item of $22,000 for political expenditures.

"Are you going to support William M. Butler in Massachusetts?" Curran asked. "Certainly not," Curran said.

Butler, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, is running for the Senate and is considered the fifth and ninth candidate of the association was to restore to the states their rights.

Walsh (Dem.), Montana, said the fifteenth and nineteenth amendments also had been attacked as violating state rights and asked the witness why the organization did not campaign against them.

"The eighteenth is the most outrageous," Curran replied. Curran said the fifteenth and nineteenth amendments "had no business in the Constitution." He added that he favored woman suffrage but thought it should be determined by the states.

Dryness as Qualification. Going back to campaign contributions, Curran asked if the association would support any candidate who favored repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Curran said the association considered the qualifications before taking action.

"If one was dry and the other wet would you support the dry if he were the better man?" Curran asked. "If he were dry he would not be the better man," Curran replied.

"Would you support a dry?" "No," Curran said.

"That's the prime question?" "Yes."

"Peace or war, good government or bad government are all subordinated to that question," Curran demanded. "That's your statement, not mine," Curran said.

Curran asked, "I wouldn't be surprised," Curran said.

Curran said James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, and candidate for the Senate from Pennsylvania, had not made his position clear. "He is in the Cabinet and can't talk," Curran said.

"Grundy a Pussyfoot?" "Senator Grundy (running for re-election from Pennsylvania) is in the Senate," Curran said.

"Senators can talk, can't they?" "They sure can," Curran said. He described Grundy as a "pussyfoot" because he had not said how he stood on prohibition.

Asked if the association would take part in the Illinois election, Curran said it depended on Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, who is the Republican candidate for Senator, and a dry. "You think she might change her mind?" Curran asked.

"A woman always has the right to change her mind," Curran replied amid laughter. James Hamilton Lewis, a wet, is the Democratic candidate.

"Armed Revolution Now." Asked if he would favor "armed revolution" against the prohibition law, Curran replied "we will cross that bridge when we come to it."

He added that there already was "armed revolution" so far as some of the prohibition officers were concerned.

Five states were in "revolt," he said, maintaining that the rights of the people "ought to be defended in any way, that becomes necessary."

Challenging Curran's statement that the people were in revolt against prohibition, Senator Robinson (Rep.), Indiana, a dry, said seven men had contributed more than 60 per cent of the association's funds this year.

Robinson read from a record that the total for the first two months of this year was $166,554. He added that among the contributions were Irene du Pont, $20,000; Pierre du Pont, $12,500; Lamont du Pont, $17,500; Richard T. Crane, $12,500; Arthur Curtis Jones, $12,500; John J. Raskob, $17,500; and Charles H. Sabin, $7,500. "It looks like it is a du Pont subsidiary," Robinson commented.

Curran said these contributions represented pledges for the first six months and they were not representative. He said 10,000 persons contributed last year.

The witness said his salary was paid at the rate of $5000 each by Pierre du Pont, Lamont du Pont, Raskob, Sabin and Edward S. Harkness.

When he reached Raskob's name Curran started laughing. Questioned by Robinson about it, he said: "I was reading about you and Raskob in the paper the other day."

Raskob was questioned at length by Robinson when the Democratic chairman appeared before the committee. He was directed to reappear again tomorrow for further questioning.

DEAN OF LAW SCHOOL, WASHINGTON U., QUILTS

William G. Hale Said to Have Been Disappointed in Budget Allotment.

William G. Hale has resigned as dean of the Washington University law school, a position he has held for three years, effective the end of the academic year on June 30. Chancellor Tarpo, confirming the fact of the resignation, said it was not desired to make any explanation of it, but that it had not been requested. The resignation was accepted by the university corporation recently.

Dean Hale, in response to an inquiry, said his retirement was a matter of his own choice, but that in view of the policy of the university he did not wish to discuss it. He added that there had been no personal unpleasantness and that he was sorry to leave.

From other sources it was learned that a difference of opinion had arisen between Dean Hale and the university authorities over the budget appropriations for the law school. It was understood that Hale was disappointed over the failure to make more money available for the work of legal education.

Hale desired to spend more than the university felt able to provide. He wanted, it was said, to have funds for more teachers, more books and more scholarships for poor youths.

At the commencement exercises of 1927, several weeks before Hale came to the university, Robert S. Brookings, now president emeritus of the corporation, said that the university, its leadership in medicine established and its success in developing leadership in the sciences of government, with the first step the establishment of a $1,000,000 additional law endowment fund.

He referred to the much larger endowment of the Harvard Law School. Hale's friends say he is disappointed over the failure so far to establish the endowment at Washington, although there has been some increase in the budget.

The law school here has about 140 pupils, seven full-time faculty members and a number of downtown lawyers who are part-time lecturers.

The corporation, in recognition of Hale's services, has decided to pay him for a certain year, after the end of the academic year. He has made no plans for himself and the university has not selected his successor.

Hale, who resides at 222 North Rock Hill road, Webster Groves, was born in Haverhill, Ore., after two years at Pacific University, Forest Grove, Ore., and Harvard law school. He practiced law intermittently in Oregon and taught law at the University of Illinois and in summer at Leland Stanford University and the University of California.

From 1909 to 1912, he was dean of the law school at the University of Oregon. His work in legal writing and editing has attracted attention and his course on "The Administration of Justice," at Oregon, was mentioned frequently in legal publications.

WESTINGHOUSE AND GENERAL ELECTRIC BUY R. C. A. CONTROL of the fees have been withheld by the company, the accountant said. The Federal Trade Commission has court action pending in an effort to force the Electric Bond to turn over its records to commission accounts.

Dickerman was the first witness as the commission resumed its investigation of public utilities financing.

He said the Electric Bond & Share in 1929 sold 10,364,000 kilowatt hours of power and light, or 10.6 per cent of the total in the United States.

The company, he testified, owned 100 per cent of the stock in the Two Rivers Street Co., New York, the Phoenix Utility Co., and the Texas Construction Co.

The fees received by the Electric Bond and Share from holding companies in 26 states, Dickerman said, were: General supervision, $4,020.65; engineering, $1,846,235; construction, $1,510,709; financing, $1,288,216; and miscellaneous charges, $707,285.

While available company records showed total expenditures for these services of $6,612,927, Dickerman said that $2,050,466 of that sum must be deducted because it had no relation to the actual costs of the services.

URGES CITY TO CHANGE STREET WIDENING LAW

Resolution Adopted at Meeting at Which Speakers Urge Action.

A resolution recommending that the City Counselor's office gather information and suggest changes in the law and administration to facilitate street widening condemnation was adopted today at a meeting held at City Hall to consider improvement of condemnation procedure.

Speakers agreed that action should be taken to speed up condemnation. John M. Robertson, chairman of the City Improvement Association, composed of downtown property owners, said the downtown district cannot wait five to 10 years for improvements under the present condemnation system.

He said that one-tenth of the taxable property in the city is in the downtown section, which is becoming increasingly difficult to reach from the residential districts.

City Counselor Muench suggested that condemnation be carried out through a jury of six meeting steadily, instead of a commission of three members, who meet irregularly. Progress under the present system depends upon the industry of the commissioners, Muench said.

Forrest C. Donnell, representing the St. Louis Bar Association, said the Special Condemnation Committee of the association is not ready to recommend changes in the proposed bill to speed condemnation, which was permitted to die in the last session of the Board of Aldermen. In general, Donnell said the delay in condemnation is due to the administration, rather than to the law.

An amendment to the charter, providing for notice to defendants by publication instead of through personal service, was favored by several speakers. Others suggested notice by publication to defendants who could not be found through personal service.

Daniel Bartlett, Police Commissioner, who appeared as counsel for the Real Estate Exchange, declared the city has lost more than $75,000, the difference between claims of property owners and awards on the Olive street widening by trying up the $2,000,000 revolving fund for public improvements.

Former Congressman Nathan Frank, a wealthy property owner, took the floor and declared he could have the revolving fund released within 24 hours if the matter were in his hands.

"I will give you $2000 if you will tell me how to do it," Mayor Miller remarked.

"I've already told the City Counselor how to do it," Frank responded.

"I'll bet you $1000 you never told Muench a damn thing," the Mayor responded heatedly.

"Remember there are ladies present, and don't forget your dignity," admonished Frank, calling attention to several women in the audience.

"You don't have to tell me about dignity," Mayor Miller retorted. Other speakers at the meeting, which was held in the auditorium of the Board of Public Service, included Robert Kratky, Mayor Miller's former campaign manager, and Luther Ely Smith, chairman of the General Council on Civic Needs.

British 'White Paper' Summarizes Work Achieved by Naval Parley

More Important Than Financial Savings, MacDonald Says, Is Elimination of Competitive Building.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 16.—Parliament tonight received a "white paper" which summarized the work achieved thus far by the London naval conference.

Among other points, Prime Minister MacDonald cited the tonnage reductions negotiated and the attendant saving in money. In conclusion, the "white paper" says: "Important as are these financial savings, yet a more important result of this first stage of the London conference has been the elimination of competitive building in cruisers and auxiliary craft between the British Commonwealth, the United States and Japan, with all that this implies in mutual improvement of their political relations."

"Figures of agreement between those Powers have been placed at a low level, and it is the earnest hope of His Majesty's Government that during the next stage of the conference agreement may be reached with the French and Italian Governments at levels which will permit their programs of tonnage figures being incorporated in the agreement already reached between the other Powers."

"After signature of the treaty, the conference will adjourn in order to give further time for negotiations between the French and Italian Governments with view to settlement of the difficulties which as yet prevent complete agreement."

"These negotiations may be prolonged, and it is necessary that the conference should remain in London while the conversations are proceeding. It is for this reason that adjournment has been decided upon."

LEAVES $25,000 FOR RELIEF OF THOSE WHO SPURN CHARITY

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 16.—Harry M. Beer, St. Louis stock broker for many years, established a fund valued at more than $125,000 to aid persons "preferable of culture and refinement are apt to shrink from charity," in a will filed for probate today. The estate is valued at $300,000.

The will set forth that the fund is to be used for the "relief of want and worry of persons who, because of illness or misfortune, would suffer." The will asked that preference be given those "likely to be overlooked in the work of many organizations which dispense charity."

Mrs. Albert L. Perkins, a cousin with whom Mr. Beer resided at 13 Aberdeen place, said that no definite plans had been made for the administration of the fund. Several personal bequests were included in the will. Mr. Beer died at Mrs. Perkins' home on April 7. He was 82 years old and unmarried.

GERARD SWOPE THINKS BUSINESS ON UPGRADE

General Electric Co. Head Here With Brother, Says Conditions Are "Fair."

"Business conditions in general are 'fair and slowly on the upgrade,'" with the prospect of improvement in the unemployment situation as spring building activity sets under way, said Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Co. of New York, upon arrival in St. Louis today.

Swope came with his brother, Herbert Bayard Swope, former executive editor of the New York World. The purpose of their visit, they said, was to renew old acquaintances in St. Louis, their native city. Gerard Swope will speak at a joint luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce and the St. Louis Electrical Board of Trade at Hotel Jefferson tomorrow.

Gerard Swope, who began his career as a $6-a-week helper in an electrical factory while attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, called attention to the company's quarterly report issued yesterday, declaring that it reflected conditions in the electrical industry. Shipments for the quarter totaled $31,000,000 as compared with $33,000,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1929. Net profits for three months showed a gain of $500,000 over the initial quarter of last year, he added. Net earnings per share rose from 48 cents to 50 cents.

General Electric expects a "fair" year during 1930 and the future of the industry is "assured," he declared.

The brothers will remain in St. Louis until Friday noon, stopping at Hotel Chase, according to their present plans. Gerard Swope has not been in St. Louis since 1928, when he established a $50,000 scholarship fund to enable public high school pupils to obtain education in American colleges.

From one Indian came questions as to why Nancy Bowen had not been examined mentally. "We know on good authority that there are times when Nancy acts very queer," he said.

Other speakers reflected the feeling aroused as a result of a line of questioning by the District Attorney at the trial relative to the prevalence of white names among the restoration Indians. They appealed to the fairness of the white race to shield the good name of Indian women.

SISTERS OF MARTIN HYLAND APPEAL ACTION AGAINST WIDOW

Assets of Estate and Demand Accounting.

Allegations that the widow of Martin Hyland, promoter of the Madison Kennel Club and other fox tracks throughout the country, is concealing assets of his estate, were renewed yesterday in Circuit Court at Clayton by his sisters, Mrs. Mary Martin and Mrs. Catherine Clarkin, who are appealing from a recent decision against them by Probate Judge Hodgdon.

The sisters ask for an accounting of the estate. They charge that Mrs. Hyland, an administratrix of her husband's estate, omitted to inventory his dog track holdings in an attempt to defraud them. However, Mrs. Hyland has said the holdings are her own, Hyland having transferred them to her before his death, a year ago.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 16.—The council of the Seneca Nation of Indians at a pow-wow at Salamanca, which ended this morning, expressed dissatisfaction over the manner in which the recent Lila Jimerson murder case was handled.

The Indians held no briefs for Nancy Bowen, the old woman who hampered Mrs. Henri Marchand, the Buffalo artist's wife to death, or Lila Jimerson, the Cayuga, who pleaded guilty of second degree murder before her case went to the jury, but were emphatically of the opinion that all the evidence in the case was not uncovered and all the guilty parties not brought to justice.

At the end of that all circumstances surrounding the murder may be revealed, the Senecas, through their assembled leaders, pledged their aid.

Nancy's Counsel at Pow-wow.
Only Nancy Bowen still is in jail awaiting trial, which is expected to start in about two weeks. Robert P. Galloway, her counsel, was at the council meeting by request.

The Senecas said in silence for several minutes. Then, one after the other spoke with deliberation. Some complained about procedure in the white man's court, but none brought forth new evidence.

Adlai Williams, clerk of the nation, said he regretted the impression advanced that non-Christian Indians are mad.

"When the first white man knelt at Plymouth Rock," he explained, "the Indians who gathered at the approach of the strangers joined with them in praise of the Creator. He said, 'I don't think I could have gone through this horrible ordeal.'"

She denied that she had created scenes when she went to Amster's office with demands for money. She said "it was not necessary."

She testified that Amster paid her expenses on trips to California, Colorado, Arizona and in European cities.

She said Amster sent gifts of engraved silver to the boy, who is now 6 years old, and after he had settled a trust fund of $100,000 on the child, had her make a will, naming him (Amster) as executor of the trust in case of her death.

She said that on the night last fall when he had her arrested for extortion her feelings toward him were not hostile.

The State interrupted her testimony to concede that Amster had been intimate with her over a period of 13 years.

In reiterating her previous statements that she is the father of her boy, she said, "and he had me add 'Edwards' to my name. He also told me to have inscribed in the wedding ring: 'From Lee to Olga, with love as endless as this ring.'"

NEW YORK, April 16.—The defense in the case of Olga Edwards, charged with extortion from Nathan L. Amster, 60-year-old millionaire traction magnate, who she says is the father of her son, rested today. Miss Edwards was the only defense witness.

In her account of how she spent $500 a month she said a certain amount went for her apartment, some for the boy Lee's kindergarten, and some for insurance. She said she was repaying a $200 loan she received from her father, and that she occasionally helped her mother.

"Isn't it a fact," demanded Amster's attorney, "that your family disowned you 10 years ago?" "I don't think so," Miss Edwards replied with a smile. Father is very fond of me, and my mother is here now. Otherwise, I don't think I could have gone through this horrible ordeal."

"PURITY" JONES,
17 MONTHS IN PRISON, PAROLED

$1,000,000 Swindler Released at Alderson, W.
Va., Where He Was Serving 3-Year Sentence.

"Purity" Jones, whose high-pressure laundry operations in the sale of laundry machinery resulted in a $1,000,000 loss to banks, investment firms, and customers, was released on parole yesterday from the Federal prison at Alderson, W. Va., after serving 17 months of a three-year sentence for using the mails to defraud.

The parole was obtained by Representative L. C. Dwyer, who presented to the Board of Pardons letters from St. Louis laundrymen and from Jones' wife, Mrs. Claire A. Jones of 2614 Humphrey street, asking that Jones be released. Mrs. Jones stated that she has been working to support herself and children since her husband went to prison. Jones entered prison on Nov. 15, 1928, after pleading guilty before Federal Judge Paris to each of nine counts of an indictment. He was sentenced to three years on each count, the terms running concurrently.

Story of His Swindling.
The financial career of David Jones, who called himself "Purity" Jones in his advertisements, reached a climax with the failure of the David Jones Co., laundry machinery manufacturers, in January, 1927. Postal inspectors charged that Jones swindled banks, finance companies, and his laundrymen friends and customers through duplicated promissory notes and spurious chattel mortgages.

When Jones sold machinery to a laundryman he accepted notes in payment. The notes were counted at banks and finance companies, and Jones subsequently obtained renewal notes from the laundrymen, promising to destroy the original paper. He sold the renewals and kept the originals standing against the laundrymen also. Several of his customers testified before Referee in Bankruptcy Coles that Jones had tripled their original indebtedness through this system.

Some Victims Lost All.
More than a dozen small laundries were put out of business when Jones' scheme collapsed. The Jones company's plant at 5149 Natural Bridge avenue was sold to pay part of the liabilities. General creditors received $175,000, about 17 per cent of their claims. Preferred claims to the extent of $40,000 were paid in full. Banks and finance companies, the principal creditors, filed claims for $1,189,000, which were reduced by compromise to $689,000. Counting the failure of the laundries that dealt with Jones, discount figures and excess paper, the net loss through his operations amounted to $1,000,000.

Jones, a former saloonkeeper, was a soap salesman for a packing house before going into business for himself in 1918. During the interim between the failure of his company and his entering prison he opened an office on Third street and sold laundry machinery and supplies on commission. He is 49 years old and formerly occupied a pretentious residence in Utah place.

MOUNDS CO-OWNER TOLD BY POLICE TO STAY ON EAST SIDE

"Bow-Wow" McQuillan Boasts to Chief Kaiser of Partner's Political Influence Across River.

"Bow-wow, you can go back over to your club now and put on your Tuxedo," said Chief of Detectives Kaiser yesterday, when William (Bow-wow) McQuillan, co-proprietor of the Mounds County Club, obtained his release on bond after his arrest here for investigation.

"No, Chief, I don't wear a Tuxedo," replied McQuillan, who, at the age of 34, has amassed a fortune out of the Mounds, a gambling, dancing and dining resort on Illinois State Highway No. 11, between East St. Louis and Collinsville.

"Listen," asked the Chief, "have you got any magnets under the dice tables over there?"
A pained expression of shock that anyone should doubt his integrity crept over "Bow-wow's" florid features.

"That's one thing you can depend on—all our games are on the square," "Bow-wow" declared earnestly.

Merchant Won $25,000.
"Some of your best people come over to our place," he continued. "Some of your merchants, for instance. Why, we weren't open two weeks when a well-known Washington avenue merchant came over to play the roulette and hit us for $25 grand" ($25,000).

"Did he get away with it?" Kaiser asked.

"That time, yes," McQuillan answered, "but he kept coming back and playing and he lost that $25 grand and some more."
"Got any oil wells in Dupo?" Kaiser asked.

"I don't need any—the biggest oil well I got is the club," answered McQuillan.

"Bow-wow, you've got a lot of redhows working at the club."
"No, Chief, that's wrong. They're all good boys working for us."
"How do you like the butterfly life?"

"It's the life. The cabaret's the thing."
"You know Fred Burke's gunning for you?"
"If he is, he's crazy," replied McQuillan, grinning and evincing no fear of Burke, a former St. Louis gangster, charged with many murders and now at large.

TRAIN CHANGES ON APRIL 27
23-Hour Service Will Be Started to New York.
Sunday, April 27, is the date set for inauguration of the Pennsylvania railroad's new 23-hour service between St. Louis and New York, on the "American" and "Spirit of St. Louis," through extra-fare trains. The running time of other trains will be reduced, and the time between St. Louis and Boston by this line will be shortened three hours.

The New York Central (Big Four) has also announced a 23-hour service from St. Louis to New York by its "Knickerbocker" train, effective April 27, and other reductions of schedule.

Arch Preserver metatarsal support.
Nerves, muscles and blood-vessels enjoy barefoot freedom on the flat inner sole. The long arch retains its youthful strength and buoyancy, all strain being absorbed by the concealed Arch Preserver arch bridge.

"Goodbye, 'Bow-Wow,' better stay on the other side of the river, we don't want you over here," said Kaiser, concluding the interview.

Boards of Political Power.
In an earlier interview, as told yesterday, McQuillan boasting told of the successful financial operation of the club, of the political influence Harry Murdock, his partner, exercises, and of the absence of fear of interference from Madison County authorities.

McQuillan, who formerly was picked up frequently by St. Louis police, was arrested for investigation Monday night when found visiting a Cass avenue filling station he formerly operated. He was released on a $10,000 bond, signed by Jack Keegan, professional bondsman, returnable next Wednesday before Judge Buller in Court of Criminal Correction.

The unusually high bond, in the absence of a definite charge, will have the effect, police think, of keeping "Bow-Wow" away from his former haunts in St. Louis.

Judge Asks Church Body to Get Gambling Evidence.

Members of the Presbyterian Men's Brotherhood of Granite City were advised last night by Circuit Judge Bernreuter to gather evidence of gambling in Madison County quietly and present it to State's Attorney Bohm.

"If he will not act," the Judge said, "come to me and I will find the reason why."

Referring to laxity of law en-forcement in Madison County, in which the Mounds County Club is located, Bernreuter declared that enforcement of gambling and liquor laws is not as popularly demanded as formerly.

"Some of our Sheriffs and habitual offenders."

Ten Poisoned by Ecstasy.
CHICAGO, April 15.—A short time after having eaten chocolate eclairs and Boston cream pie purchased at a neighborhood bakery, 10 persons, members of two families, were stricken yesterday with a serious illness diagnosed as poisoning.

State's Attorneys do not do their duty," Bernreuter continued. "Get some real live evidence."

Discussing crime and punish-ment, Bernreuter advocated intelligent leniency for first offenders and longer prison sentences for habitual offenders.

STATE WITNESS HELD ON CHANGE IN STORY

Emil Fendler, 19, Faces Perjury Charge—Boy Robber Gets 15 Years.

After a trial featured by the ar-rest of a State witness who changed his testimony, a Circuit Court jury today voted a conviction and 15-year penitentiary sentence against Harry Nash, 19 years old, a former Workhouse inmate, charged with robbery. The jury deliberated half an hour.

The witness, Emil Fendler, also 19, was arrested in Judge Hamilton's court yesterday at the request of Assistant Circuit Attorney Hennings, after he had said, under cross-examination, that he was unable to identify Nash as one of the robbers at the time of the latter's last arrest. A warrant charging perjury will be sought against Fendler.

Throughout his cross-examina-tion, Fendler appeared to be an unwilling witness. Detective-Sergeant Schuard said that when he questioned Fendler in the holdover last night, he explained his courtroom attitude by saying he had started a flirtation with two girls, friends of the defendant, during the trial, and that they had suggested it was not necessary for him to make the identification.

During the trial Fendler did not mention a $150 diamond ring which he had told police was taken from him by the three robbers, together with several dollars in cash. His companion, Harry Schnelders, identified Nash as one of the three robbers. Fendler says he is a gardener, living at 4400 South Morganford road.

Nash repudiated a written con-fession and presented an alibi. He was implicated in the robbery by Robert Frayne and Kendall Kramer in their confessions. Frayne is serving a five-year term and Kramer a 10-year term at Boonville.

FAMILY ADRIFT IN MOTOR BOAT 9 DAYS RESCUED

Florida Missionary, Wife, Nine Children and Negro Picked Up at Sea.

By the Associated Press.

PANAMA CITY, April 16.—Stranded for nine days in a motor launch in the Caribbean Sea east of Colon, J. W. Miller of Jacksonville, Fla., and his wife, and nine children and a Negro seaman were rescued by the Cuban gunboat Patria when starvation and exposure were imminent.

Miller and his family, the youngest of whom is seven months old, started from Boca del Toro, Panama, for Colon April 1 in a small motor boat. On April 6 they ran out of fuel while only a short distance from their objective.

For days after that, until yesterday, Miller watched for craft which might help him get to Colon. Twice he signalled passing boats with a small United States flag but was unable to make himself seen. Yesterday the Patria sighted him about three miles off Colon and brought the party of 12 to port.

The Millers are a family of voluntary missionaries. They left Jacksonville in June, 1928, for a cruise through the West Indies, and in the course of their journey they founded the mission "Church of God" on the Isle of Pines, Cuba.

Early in 1929 they turned it over to P. D. Ford, another missionary, and left for Grand Cayman Island, Cuba. Later they continued to Nicaragua, and from there to Boca del Toro, Panama. Miller is an experienced carpenter.

GETS SECOND VERDICT ON MALPRACTICE CHARGE

Hodcarrier Wins $7500 Award for an Injury Suffered in 1922.

A jury in Circuit Judge Hall's court today awarded $7500 to Edward McDonough, a hodcarrier of 1804 Geyer avenue, in his suit for $40,000 against Dr. Newton M. Freund, 1440 South Eighteenth street, for malpractice.

McDonough contended he has been partly incapacitated since 1922, when Dr. Freund lanced a boil on his right arm. In the operation, he said, an artery was cut and later a bone infection set in.

Dr. Freund said he had treated a carbuncle on McDonough's arm in the usual manner and offered medical testimony to show there was no negligence. A verdict returned four years ago awarded McDonough $10,000, but the case was reversed by the Missouri Supreme Court because of technical errors.

TENNESSEE WOULD BAR STANDARD OIL FIRM

Charges in Suit That Louisiana Company Has Broken Anti-Trust Laws.

By the Associated Press.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 16.—Alleging the Standard Oil Co. of Louisiana had sought to destroy competition by reducing prices below production costs, the state has brought injunction proceedings in Chancery Court by which it seeks to oust the company from Tennessee.

The petition, filed by Attorney General L. D. Smith and his assistants, declares the company has violated antitrust statutes and asks that the company's license be canceled, that it be ousted from the state and that its officers, agents and employees be perpetually enjoined from carrying on business in Tennessee.

The plea also is made that the company be held in contempt of court for its alleged refusal to obey the decree of the State Supreme Court enjoining the Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky from doing business in the state. The suit alleges that shortly after the ouster of the Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky in 1910, the company returned to Tennessee under the name of the Standard Oil Co. of Louisiana.

$3,470,087,000 AMERICAN

Total of $3,470,087,000 of Foreign Money in Dominion's Enterprises.

By the Associated Press.
OTTAWA, April 16.—British and foreign capital invested in Canada on Jan. 1, 1929 totaled $5,904,169,000, said an estimate made public today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Of this total $2,197,882,000 was British, $3,470,087,000 was from the United States and $236,409,000 from other countries.

"Since our national wealth can be estimated for the same date as between $28,000,000,000 and $30,000,000,000 it will be seen that outside capital comprises about one-fifth of this total," said the report.

"Moreover it is estimated that Canadians own from 55 to 65 per cent of the securities of all enterprises in Canada and in addition have invested abroad $1,745,815,977. Of these Canadian investments abroad, $95,916,848 is estimated to be in Britain, $991,651,727 in the United States and $658,247,401 in other countries."

R. W. BOYDEN GETS HUGHES' HAGUE POST

Boston Lawyer Named U. S. Member of Permanent Court of Arbitration.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 16.—President Hoover has selected Roland W. Boyden, one of his assistants in the war-time food administration, to be the American member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague. Boyden was chosen to succeed Charles Evans Hughes, who resigned on being appointed Chief Justice of the United States.

After serving with the food administration, his first Government task, Boyden was appointed to the American delegation at the Paris peace conference. Later he was unofficial American observer with the reparations commission, and now is serving as umpire of the mixed claims commission, to settle German-American claims arising out of the war, in Washington.

Boyden, a Boston lawyer, is a Harvard graduate of 1885, a leading stockholder in the First National Bank of Boston and a director of many corporations.

After completion of his duties with the reparations commission he was elected and subsequently re-elected president of the Chamber of Commerce of Boston.

Boyden is a widower. He maintains his home at Beverly, Mass., where he was born 67 years ago. He has always been a Republican. He was one of the original Hoover supporters in this State.

$3,000,000 OFFER OF CHURCH MADE BY R. D. MELLON

Treasury Head's Brother Proposes to Build New Edifice for Pittsburgh Presbyterian Congregation.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 16.—An offer of R. D. Mellon to build one of America's most beautiful churches—the cost said to be $3,000,000—will be made tonight at a general congregation meeting of the East Liberty Presbyterian Congregation.

R. B. Mellon and his brothers, James R. and Andrew W., Secretary of the Treasury, are lifelong members of the church. The pastor is the Rev. Stewart Nye Hutchinson, James R., oldest of the living Mellons, is chairman of the congregation's board of trustees.

The East Liberty Church occupies one of the most valuable plots in Pittsburgh. It comprises an entire city block at Penn and Highland avenue and was deeded to the church more than a century ago by the maternal forebears of the Mellon family.

The present church consists of a main auditorium seating 1600 persons and two spacious chapels. Plans call for raising of this structure and erection of the new church on the site.

Recreation rooms, swimming pool and public meeting places are said to be included in incomplete designs for the new church. The proposed building will be of modernistic Gothic architecture in the general shape of a cross.

Boy Touches Live Cable; Burned. Boniface Vitello, 8 years old, 5429 Bischoff avenue, suffered shock and burns of the right hand when he grasped a cable leading to a street light while playing in Macklind avenue last night. The cable was exposed during reconstruction of the street.

FOR I. C. C. REGULATION OF HOLDING COMPANIES

B. & O. President Recommends Extension of Powers of Federal Body.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Extension of the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate the practices of railroad and investment holding companies was recommended today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Strong opposition from short line railroads has developed to the Commission's proposal to halt railroad consolidations until Congress makes further provision to regulate them.

Bird M. Robinson, president of the American Short Line Railway Association, said at a Senate Committee hearing, his organization was "gravely concerned" about the effect the resolution would have upon about 600 short lines not yet consolidated into great systems.

Ben B. Cain, general counsel of the organization testified yesterday that the trunk lines would not acquire the short, weak lines unless they were permitted to merge with other trunk lines.

Contending that the resolution would have "the effect of a law" and that it would be "complete reversal" of policy, Cain said Congress should present clearly explained grounds for action "extraordinary and so revolutionary."

He added that it would take away from the judicial body—the Interstate Commerce Commission—the duty Congress gave it to decide what was in the public interest.

Putting Check on I. C. C.—There is nothing revolutionary interrupted Senator Wheeler, (Dem., Montana), "in saying to an agency Congress has created: 'We think you're wrong and we want to stop you for a while.'"

"What do you think," Dill (Rep., Washington), asked the witness, "of a Congress that sits by while merging, through holding companies goes on in defiance of the law?"

Cain maintained that if Congress found the Commission abused its discretion, redress lay in the courts. "But the law leaves some of them above the courts," Dill returned.

Attacking the proposed merging of the Great Northern and North Pacific railroads, Wheeler asserted that the Commission had authorized this after the Supreme Court had declared against it in the Northern Securities case. This action by the Commission, he repeatedly termed "flying in the face of the Supreme Court."

Proposed Combine Explained.—While the Senate was occupied with the general question, Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern and Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific appeared before a group of House members from Northwestern states traversed by the two lines, and outlined the advantages they thought would result from unification of these lines.

In addition to reducing operating cost by approximately $10,000,000 a year—which they hoped would be reflected in lowered freight rates—they said the merger would permit expansion of service.

Before deciding whether the Great Northern and the Western Pacific are to be permitted to link their Pacific Coast lines the Interstate Commerce Commission allowed final pleas of attorneys representing affected railroads and cities and states of the entire Northwest territory.

The Southern Pacific Railroad, which operates the only line between the two sections the new combination proposes to link, has vigorously opposed the project from the beginning.

Pennsylvania Reaching Out.—Authorization to acquire under a 99-year lease the Western New York and Pennsylvania Railway was sought by the Pennsylvania Railroad in an application to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Pennsylvania has operated the road under lease since 1902 but said in its application that it was desirable that a more permanent arrangement be entered into.

SUES FOR $75,000, SAYING NEIGHBOR STOLE HIS WIFE William D. Hamby Files Alienation of Affection Action at Clayton.

A $75,000 suit for the alienation of the affection of his wife was filed by William D. Hamby, formerly a dairyman at Des Peres, against Harry C. Harwood, a neighboring dairyman, in Circuit Court at Clayton today.

Hamby alleges Harwood courted his wife while he was on a trip during the fall of 1928 and that when he returned in December he found her gone. Later, on March 16, 1929, he learned the defendant, judged her to his suit for divorce. Hamby did not contest the suit and Mrs. Hamby married Harwood.

Hamby, who now lives in Webster Groves and is employed by a cleaning firm, asks for $50,000 actual and $25,000 punitive damages.

Dean Chadsey's Successor. URBANA, Ill., April 16.—Prof. Walter H. Monroe, director of the Bureau of Educational Research at the University of Illinois for the last nine years, has been designated acting dean of the College of Education to succeed Charles E. ### GRANITE CITY HOLDS 5TH ELECTION IN MONTH

Seven Aldermen Chosen—No More Voting Until November.

Granite City voters are breathing easily today. Their fifth election in a month—that for the Board of Aldermen—was held yesterday and there won't be another until Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick and J. Hamilton Lewis fight it out for the Senate in November.

There really should have been seven elections in Granite City this spring, but two primaries required by law were passed up. Curtains—drawn to the city judicial and aldermanic contests that would have cost about $1000 apiece, didn't make enough difference to warrant the expenditure. It was decided.

Besides, reasoned the voters of Granite City, an election every four days is having them too thick and fast. One every six days is often enough. Then there were the straw votes—that of the Literary Digest on prohibition and one conducted by the Press-Record on abolition of the office of township school treasurer.

Series of Elections.
The election campaign got under way on March 18, when the city judicial election was held. April 1 the township units chose officers. A week later was the State primary, and last Saturday the School Board election, a regular rip-snotter, attracting more voters than the contest for Sheriff. Yesterday seven aldermen were elected, five on the Citizens' Independent ticket, one on the Progressive-Labor ticket and one by the Citizens' Welfare party.

W. C. Mueller, First Ward; Edward Jones, Second; R. E. Hands, Third; Horace Meadows, Fourth, and John H. Kleinschmidt, seventh, were the successful Citizens' Independent party candidates, and A. N. Jennings, Fifth, and William M. Worthen, Sixth, the victorious candidates of the Progressive-Labor and Citizens' Welfare tickets, respectively. The two-mill fire tax was approved.

Other Town Results.
In Venice the present Aldermen, J. O. Haggard, A. A. Berger and Walter Rogers, were re-elected. J. J. Leakey, J. H. Crowder and Walter Liffers were elected village trustees in Madison, and Joseph Grenier, village clerk.

The Good Government ticket made a clean sweep in Nemo, Michael Powers, William Ziegler and Peter Leuck being chosen trustees, and Earl Young village clerk. Washington Park elected Robert Morris, Mayor; Harry Morrow, clerk, and William Recklein, W. B. Crawford and John Stelling, trustees.

Other results were: Monsanto—George Ogden, clerk; J. J. Gain, G. W. Mitlin and Horace Dillard, trustees. Cahokia—Chris Sutter, clerk; Joseph Range, Joseph Hindman and Charles Nadeau, trustees. Dupage—E. H. Widner, clerk; C. A. Johnson, police magistrate; J. W. Compton, Henry Bardeleben and H. E. McDaniels, trustees.

National City—F. J. Keller, clerk; Ray Ellis, police magistrate; J. K. Mason, G. H. Yeager and F. J. McDonough, trustees. Fairmount City—Joseph Sommer, Ben C. Burdels and Fred Sabotka, trustees. Brooklyn—Odle G. Wall, clerk; Alfred Moore, W. C. Cobe and William Cole, trustees.

Sues for Divorce in Paris.
NEW YORK, April 16.—Returning from abroad on the Ile de France Mrs. Olivia Sturges, wife of Thomas E. Sturges, of Baltimore, has confirmed rumors of a divorce. She said she had filed an action in Paris and expected to have a decision in May.

THREE OF BYRD'S MEN REACH SAN FRANCISCO

Capt. McKinley, St. Louis, Carries Photographs of South Pole Area.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—
Three of Rear Admiral Byrd's men, who accompanied him on his Antarctic expedition, came home yesterday, declaring they had had enough of polar regions for a while but insisting they were willing to go again with Byrd literally to the ends of the earth.

Capt. A. N. Parker, Crystal Springs, Minn., who was with Byrd both in the far north and far south, commented that one would have to go far to find a better leader.

Capt. Ashley McKinley, St. Louis, who not only flew over the south pole with Byrd but took pictures of the area, asserted it had been Byrd's cheery personality which kept up the morale of the expedition.

O. A. Thorne, Chicago, chief surveyor, was ready with his quota of praise for the fine character and steady leadership of the Admiral.
Thousands of Photographs.
McKinley brought back thousands of photographs, most of them taken from the air for mapping purposes. Thorne brought the data from his survey, which were made on the ground with the aid of dog teams. The two will return to New York and reduce surveys and camera films to a series of Antarctic maps.

Parker, former Marine Corps flier, commented that his work was finished when the flying missions were completed. With Mc-Kinley and Thorne he will be in New York to greet Byrd on the latter's return.

Parker was pilot of Byrd's plane on the famous eastern flight on which the mountains in Marie Byrd Land were discovered.

About the Antarctic.
The three men were peppered with questions, some of which they replied:

That frozen noses, cheeks and toes were common with the expedition.

That learning to ski was their principal recreation and that some never did learn.

That the South Pole is on a large flat plain 10,000 feet above sea level.

That the recreational value of golf clubs in the Antarctic is about nil.

That they forgot to eat lunch in the excitement of discovering an unmapped range of mountains.

That it was not particularly cold at the South Pole, especially in their heated plane.

McKinley and Thorne will remain here briefly to permit the former to do some work on his pictures. Parker left for the East today.

Steamer C. A. Larsen Reaches Balboa With Expedition's Dogs.
By the Associated Press.

BALBOA, Canal Zone, April 16.
—Eight members of the Byrd expedition returned to the North American mainland last night aboard the steamer C. A. Larsen after nearly two years spent in the Antarctic.

Landing while the expedition's dogs barked excitedly, the eight men took taxis to the Panama City, where they wanted to indulge in a long-repressed shopping spree and to see and talk with people of their own country again.

Arthur T. Walden, in charge of the dogs, said: "The Antarctic was too monotonous. There was no game, no hardships, for everything was too well protected."

"When I get back home in New Hampshire I am going to buy an automobile and ride around. That is all for a while."

The dogs were almost as excited as the men at the passage of the canal. The handlers were obliged repeatedly to silence them. There are now 75 dogs, many having been born on the ice and nine born aboard the boat.

The eight men were: Walden;
Norman Vaughn and Edward Goodale, his assistants; Clair Alexander, supply officer; Martin
Roosli, sailmaker; Victor Vogtsak, Walter Leuchter and G. H. Block, supply men and cooks.

Kennel Club Award.
In summarizing the winners in the recent dog show of the Mississippi Valley Kennel Club it was incorrectly stated in the Post-Dispatch that Nicholas of Perlevia, owned by Mrs. Villa L. Smith, was adjudged the best of the breed.

WIFE, BARRED IN STUDIO, WILL NOT GIVE UP LAMAR ANTIQUES
Owner of New York Gallery Stands Off Husband's Agents Trying to Recover Art Works.
NEW YORK, April 16.—Mrs. Julian Lamar, wife of the portrait painter, was entrenched today in a studio apartment, at the National Arts Club, in Gramercy Park, standing off a siege of representatives of her husband, who is seeking to seize $10,000 worth of antiques.

Mrs. Lamar, socially prominent and the proprietor of the Lamar Galleries in East 57th street, appealed to the courts yesterday in her attempt to keep the Italian and Spanish antiques which she says were given to her by her husband. Lamar is said to be in Reno, Nev., to seek a divorce.

$50,000 TO RANSOM ROCKFORD GAMBLER
Partner of Kidnaped Book-maker Raising Money—Appeals to Police.
By the Associated Press.
ROCKFORD, Ill., April 16.—Friends of Lewis Heltter, Rockford bookmaker, said to be in the hands of kidnapers, are reported to have raised most of the $50,000 demanded for his release.
William C. (Red) Ryan, reputed partner of Heltter, appealed to Assistant Chief of Police Homer Read for aid in finding Heltter, last seen Friday afternoon in Janesville, Wis.
Ryan was asked to do what he could toward raising the money demanded in a note which he said was written by Heltter. He had received no instructions as to what to do with the ransom money, Ryan said.

HOUSE OF LORDS RESTORES DEATH PENALTY IN ARMY
Such Punishment for Cowardice and Desertion Was Voted by the Commons.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, April 16.—The death penalty for cowardice and desertion by soldiers of the British army, abolished by the House of Commons early this month, was restored to the army and air force annual bill by the House of Lords yesterday. An amendment to this effect, moved by viscount Fitzalan, was voted by 44 to 12.
Field Marshal Lord Plumer, supporting Lord Fitzalan, said the bill, if unaltered, would affect the future morale of the army. Field Marshal Lord Allenby agreed with him, asserting that offenses now punishable by death endangered the lives of many men, the success of operations and might easily lead to disaster.
Lord Thomson, Secretary for Air, said it would be impossible for the Government to accept the Fitzalan amendment. It had been, he said, "with the greatest reluctance and misgiving that he himself had acted against the advice of the Air Council and supported the abolition of the penalty."

REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT REPORTED IN NICARAGUA
Honduras Newspaper Says Rebels Have Taken Control of Two Departments.
By the Associated Press.
TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, April 16.—The newspaper El Sol yesterday reported it had reliable information that a revolutionary movement was in progress in Nicaragua. According to the paper, Gen. Pedro Altamirano, at the head of well-equipped soldiers, has taken control of the departments of Jinotega and Segovia and threatens Matagalpa. Another rebel detachment is reported to have crossed the Costa Rican frontier, attacking villages in Southern Nicaragua.

The Nicaraguan Minister to Honduras, Gen. Caldera, denied that a revolution had broken out, asserting that the only existing trouble was in the province of Segovia, where banditry is still rife. He admitted learning that 700 Nicaraguans had entered the country from Costa Rica, but said they were peacefully returning home owing to a bad economic situation in Costa Rica.

R. M. ROOSEVELT AGAIN HEADS AMERICAN ZINC INSTITUTE
Convention at Hotel Statler to Close Today; Research in Use of Metal Urged.
R. M. Roosevelt of New York was re-elected president of the American Zinc Institute yesterday at the conclusion of the second day of its annual convention at Hotel Statler. The convention will end today.
A. P. Cobb, J. A. Elton and John A. Robinson were named vice presidents; Howard I. Young, treasurer, and Julian D. Conover, secretary.

The importance of research work, developing new uses for zinc, was emphasized by speakers. They were Robert M. Curtis of the New Jersey Zinc Co., Dr. G. W. Gellert of the Battelle Memorial Institute, George A. Chert, president of the National Association of Flat-Roll Steel Manufacturers, and William A. Willis, general manager of the Copper and Brass Research Association.

LETTER IS SENT TO HOOVER OPPOSING PARKER NOMINATION
Association for Negro Advancement Says White House Acknowledged Receipt of Protest.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 16.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today made public a letter written to President Hoover in which the chief executive was asked to withdraw his nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.
The announcement said receipt of the letter had been acknowledged by the White House. Judge Parker's nomination is opposed by the association because he is alleged to have made remarks "adverse to the Negro's voting" during a political speech.
Money Voted for German Warship.

Leaves Your Hair Lovely and Alluring

"Beauty Shampoo in 10 minutes"

Quickly, Easily, at a few cents cost—you can have a Real "Beauty Shampoo" that will give Your Hair a Loveliness, quite unobtainable by Ordinary Washing.

YOU CAN SAVE TIME, expense and inconvenience, by adopting this simple method of "beauty shampooing" which gives truly professional results at home.
The beauty of your hair, its sparkle...its gloss and luster...depends almost entirely, upon the way you shampoo it.
A thin, oily film, or coating, is constantly forming on the hair. If allowed to remain, it catches the dust and dirt—hides the life and luster—and the hair then becomes dull and unattractive.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulified is a glass or pitcher with a little warm water added, makes an abundance of...soft, rich, creamy lather...which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing with it every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Only thorough shampooing will...remove this film...and let the sparkle, and rich, natural...color tones...of the hair show.

Ordinary washing fails to satisfactorily remove this film, because—it does not clean the hair properly. Besides—the hair cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali, in ordinary soaps, soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why women, by the thousands, who value beautiful hair, are using Mulified Coconut Oil Shampoo. It cleanses so thoroughly; is so mild and so pure, that it cannot possibly injure, no matter how often you use it.

You will notice the difference in the appearance of your hair the very first time you use Mulified, for it will feel so delightfully clean, and be so soft, silky, and fresh-looking.

Try a Mulified "Beauty Shampoo" and just see how quickly it is done. See how easy your hair is to manage, and how lovely and alluring it will look. See it sparkle—with new life, gloss and luster.

You can get Mulified Coconut Oil Shampoo at any drug store, or toilet goods counter, anywhere in the world.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Nathan Straus, merchant and philanthropist, has been awarded the gold medal of the National Institute of Social Sciences in "recognition of his distinguished and widespread social service in behalf of humanity," it was announced last night.

$200,000 TO BE SOUGHT FOR NEW BABIES' HOME

Institution Near Ferguson Hopes to Replace Frame Buildings With Brick.

Decision to launch a $200,000 building fund campaign for the Mothers' and Babies' Home of the Christian Church, controlled by an independent corporation, was announced today at a luncheon meeting at the American Hotel Annex of a committee sponsoring the movement. The home is situated just east of Ferguson.

The campaign will begin in about a month and will last for 10 days. A modern, fireproof structure will be erected as soon as the funds have been obtained, members of the committee said. It is hoped to complete a main building, with accommodations for 180 persons, and a separate hospital building by autumn.

The present quarters, three frame buildings, are regarded as fire traps and the City of Ferguson has notified officers of the home that their use would not be permitted after the summer, when it becomes necessary to heat them. Three fires, one of which destroyed a small school house near the main buildings, occurred last winter.

More than 100 children are in the home at present, which is so overcrowded that more than half must sleep two in a bed. Nearly 30 children, between the ages of 6 and 11, sleep in two ordinary-sized rooms, once part of an old farm house, which was remodeled when the home was founded in 1899.

Eighty-five per cent of the cost of maintaining the home is met by donations. The home is conducted in co-operation with the Christian Woman's Benevolent Association, an independent organization headed by Mrs. T. R. Ayars, 5210 Washington boulevard.

erland Sewer District The Watchman-Advocate and St. Louis County Leader, Clayton newspapers, have frequently criticized administration of the Ralph sewer law.

end to CORNS between toes

Those terribly mean corns between the toes that seem to defy all treatment—they're as easily removable as any other with Frezzone! A few drops of Frezzone instantly put the corn to sleep. Pain is deadened at once, and soon the corn becomes so loose that you can actually lift it right out with your fingers. Hard corns or soft corns—all yield to Frezzone. Why suffer when your druggist sells Frezzone?

JUDGE EXPLAINS SEWER NOTICE PUT IN MAPLEWOOD NEWSPAPER

Mulloy Says Clayton Publications Have Done Nothing but Criticize Districts.

"I'm running my own clerk," Circuit Judge Mulloy of Clayton said yesterday when asked whether Circuit Clerk Oscar Jacobmeyer had correctly stated that he had been instructed by the judge to insert a legal advertisement of benefits and damages in the Lemay Ferry Sewer District in a Maplewood newspaper instead of Clayton papers.

Agreeing that Jacobmeyer's statement was correct, Judge Mulloy said, "the law says the clerk shall publish the notice but doesn't specify that he designate the newspaper. The Clayton newspapers have done nothing but cast aspersions at the sewer districts."

"They haven't done me any favors and I see no reason for doing any for them," Jacobmeyer quoted Mulloy as saying of the Clayton papers. His statement was made during depositions taken yesterday by John E. Mooney, attorney and chairman of the Taxpayers' Protective Association, in an injunction suit against the Over-

TWO SUSPECTS HELD IN WOMAN'S MURDER

One Arrested in Washington,
Other Taken From Freight Train in Maryland.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Two suspects, one arrested in Washington and the other taken from a freight train in Maryland, were under investigation today in the efforts of the police to solve the mystery of the death of Mary Baker, 30-year-old Government employee.

The authorities kept the identity of both a secret, but disclosed that the arrest in the city came about as the result of information obtained from Miss Baker's friends as to those with whom she had been in company shortly before her death.

Miss Baker's body, bruised and pierced by bullets was found Saturday stuffed into a culvert near one of the entrances to the Arlington National Cemetery. Several hours before, her automobile had been found, streaked with blood, some distance away.

The arrest of the suspect in Washington was followed, the police said, by the discovery of a blood-stained shirt in a suitcase thought to have been his property.

William S. Shelby, Chief of Detectives, who announced the arrests, also said that further questioning of Miss Baker's two roommates, Olga Skinner and Mildred Sperry, was contemplated as part of a general plan to obtain the names of every man with whom Miss Baker was friendly. Several names were disclosed by a search of the dead woman's desk at the Navy Department. All thus brought to light are under the scrutiny of the police, who are operating on the theory that Miss Baker's mur-derer was a man with whom she was friendly.

A search of the fields and woods near the scene of the murder was in progress for the revolver which was used. Troops from Fort Myer were engaged in this hunt. A pond on the Department of Agriculture Experiment Station grounds nearby was ordered to be drained on the possibility that it might have been thrown away there.

SON SUES TO SET ASIDE TOM P. BARNETT WILL

Says Instrument as Drawn Was the Result of Official Interference.

Suit to set aside the will of Tom
P. Barnett, architect, was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by his son,
Tom M. Barnett of Indianapolis.
He alleges that the will as drawn was due to officious interference on the part of others and the provisions were not as his father intended.

It was provided that four-fifths of the income of a trust constituing the bulk of the estate should go to the widow, Mrs. Mary Barnett, and the remainder to her husband's four children by a previous marriage. Besides the plaintiff, they are Mrs. Leontine Lewis, Mrs.
Dorothy Woolger and George D.
Barnett, who, with Fred E. Rixmann, Barnett's business partner, and the Mercantile Commerce Bank and Trust Co., executor, are named as co-defendants with Mrs. Barnett. Rixmann is a beneficiary.

The will provides that on the death of the widow and the four children the trust estate revert to testator's grandchildren.
Mr. Barnett died Sept. 22, last, leaving an estate, as shown by an inventory, valued at $168,682, but which the will contest petition sets forth is valued at $250,000. Mrs.
Barnett, who lives at the Kingsway Hotel, denied she influenced her husband in drawing the will and declared he was capable of attending to that duty without advice from anyone. He was 55 years old at his death.

CARDINAL Little America

MUD IS WINNER OVER GENUINE BY FOUR LENGTHS IN THE SECOND

By the Associated Press.
HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 15.—Little America, which performed brilliantly at Miami last winter, came back with a good race here this afternoon and landed the purse in the opening event, a four and one-half furlong dash for baby racers. Over Shady was second and Hicaway third.

There was not much to the race. Little America ran into a long lead and just breezed along to win by one and a half lengths. Over Shady beat Hicaway a head for the place. The light rain which fell today just settled the dust and the time of 24.4 in the first race was very fast. The winner refunded $7.20 for a $2 ticket.

The Justa Farm Stable's Mud, with Quickdash up, was an easy winner of the second, a six-furlong sprint. Genuine was second and Shipyater third.

It was a two-horse race from the start. Genuine broke running with Mud right after him. Genuine led the first half mile, then Mud took command and won by four lengths. Genuine was second by four lengths over Shipyater. The fractional time was very fast, the first quarter being negotiated in :23, the half in :46.2-5, the five furlongs in :59.3-5, and the full distance in 1:12.5.

This winner refunded $7.20 in the mutuels.

Arceel paid $20.00 for $2. Arceel was a driving winning for the third race, a gallop of a mile and sixteenth. Prickly Heat was second and Voyage third.

Meander, one of the well-played horses, failed to show anything worth while and finished a bad last.

Just before the race a heavy rain set in and the going was made slow. Voyage led for a mile, then Prickly Heat and Arceel both moved up and in a drive Arceel won by a head. Prickly Heat beat Voyage three lengths for the place. The winner paid $20.00 for a $2 ticket.

Her Grace, which defeated a good field at Bowie recently, came right back with another winning effort and beat Murky Cloud and Lost Agnes in the fourth.

Her Grace rushed right to the front and, showing the most speed, raced all opposition into defeat and won by nearly a length. Murky Cloud beat Lost Agnes two lengths for the place. The winner paid $10.50 for a $2 ticket.

U. S. AMATEUR CHAMPION TRIMS PRO TITLEHOLDER

BILL TILDEN.

TILDEN DEFEATS "PRO" CHAMPION IN STRAIGHT SETS

BEAULIEU, France, April 15.—Bill Tilden, American amateur tennis champion, defeated Karel Kozeluh of Czechoslovakia, world's professional titleholder, in an impromptu match today, by scores of 6-4, 6-4.

Kozeluh was at a disadvantage due to the fact that he had not expected to play. The swarthy little Czech appeared at the grounds as a spectator, but pulled off his coat and jumped onto the court when the match was proposed during an intermission.

In the interesting contest that ensued, Tilden appeared to be at his best and Kozeluh at his worst. Tilden was forced to an extra set, however, in his third round match with Lotan, amateur champion of Nice, finally winning by scores of 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

The brief encounter between Tilden and Kozeluh marked the first time on record that the great Czechoslovakian professional has opposed a high-ranking amateur in an actual contest although he has practiced with most of the best of them.

Ever since he attained world prominence tennis fans have been desirous of seeing him in action against Tilden, Cochet or Lacoste, but efforts to this end have been blocked repeatedly by the amateur tennis associations of the countries concerned because of their disapproval of "mixed matches."

Against Vincent Richards, former amateur rival of Tilden, Kozeluh has waged some remarkable duels for professional supremacy, winning the majority of them.

RAIN PREVENTS BROWNS' GAME; AL CROWDER DUE TO PITCH NEXT

By James M. Gould.

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.
DETROIT, April 16.—Rain caused postponement of the Browns' scheduled game with the Detroit Tigers here this afternoon, the second in the series, and so Alvin Crowder had to wait for his chance to go in and try to pitch Killefer's men to an even footing with the Bengals.

Even in defeat, Killefer's men looked good on opening day.

Sam Gray failed in an effort to chalk up a third consecutive inaugural triumph over the Tigers. He did it in 1928 and in 1929, but a bad start sent him down to defeat yesterday.

However, the Texan pitched some fine ball. After the first two innings, he held Harris' men in check, and while he passed three batters, he struck out five and his performance was very encouraging.

The three Browne home runs by Gullie, Kress and Schulte showed that the St. Louis club, reputedly weak on offense, can hit the ball hard, and 12 safe ideas in a pretty good day's collection. It equalled the performance of the slugging Tigers.

Accordingly, Manager Killefer is very confident of evening the series the next time the clubs get into action. Earl Whitehead, a southpaw, is due to pitch for Detroit, and Bill Beliveau's right-hand hitting club will do plenty of business.

PINKY KAUFMAN HERE FOR FIGHT WITH KING TUT

With Pinky Kaufman in St. Louis and King Tut due to arrive early tomorrow from Milwaukee, Matchmaker Mike Malloy, who is putting these lightweight on in the headline 10-round bout of his card at The Arena, next Monday night, is now ready to sit back and await the advance sale.

An interesting announcement in regard to the sale of tickets by Malloy today is that there will be 3000 tickets that will be sold at 50 cents each. As 50 rounds of boxing is scheduled on the card, Malloy has coined the catch phrase "Fifty rounds at a cent a round."

Other tickets will be available at $1.25, $2.50 and $5.

Kaufman arrived in St. Louis yesterday to finish training. He is confident of making a good showing. After knocking out King Tut in Philadelphia, he later boxed him 10 even rounds in Milwaukee.

Just to prove that Tut had nothing on him, last night he told promoter Malloy that he was going in for another knockout win over the King, right from the jump, because he realizes it will make him a great drawing card here.

Another 10-rounder will engage Joe Wee Kalam and Lou Terry in their return match for the junior lightweight championship of the city.

Another 10-round fight will bring to St. Louis a new face, that of My Sullivan, the St. Paul Irishman. Pitted against the clever Sullivan will be a St. Louis boy who fights all the time, Jack Horner. They will box at 134 pounds.

In one of the five-rounder bouts, Calahan, a "southpaw," will clash with Jack Barry, a clever light-heavyweight from Ohio. Calahan boxed in Chicago the other night and knocked out Red Griffin, a tough customer, in just 35 seconds.

In another five-rounder Ted Room, another Chicago boxer, will face Al Stillman.

Other five-rounders will see Phil Erick, the Cleveland featherweight, pitted against the best opponent available, possibly Billy De-Dee, and Walter Mader, the Chicago heavyweight with a wallop, engaging John Schwake of St. Louis.

FRISCH, HAFEEY AND FISHER DRIVE OUT DOUBLES IN A ROW

By J. Roy Stockton.

OF THE POST-DISPATCH STAFF.
SPORTSMAN'S PARK, April 16.—Sylvester Johnson and Charley Root did the pitching this afternoon in the second game of the series between the Cardinals and the league champion Cubs.

Both managers stood pat on the opening day line-up with the hard-hitting George Fisher again in right field for the Cardinals. About 3500 persons attended.

Pfirman, Jorda and Quigley were the umpires.
The game:
FIRST INNING — CUBS — Johnson knocked down English's hard liner and Gelbert threw him out. The drive injured Johnson's hand and time was taken out while the infielders inspected the injured hand. Johnson threw several practice pitches and then decided he could remain on duty. Blair doubled to center. Hornsby struck out. L. Wilson walked. Caylor fled to Bottomley.

CARDINALS — Douthitt grounded to Blair. Adams singled off Root's glove. Frisch doubled against the left center bleachers with scoring Adams. Bottomley fouled to Blair. Hafey doubled against the left field wall, scoring Frisch. Fisher's pop fly fell safe in right for a double, scoring Hafey. Gelbert walked. J. Wilson popped to Grimm.

THIRD INNING — CUBS — Stephenson singled over second. Grimm grounded. At down the first-base line to Bottomley and Umpire Jorda called it a foul, but Bottomley touched first and threw to Gelbert, thinking the ball was fair and that he could get a double play. As Stephenson slid into second base he spiked Gelbert's right hand and time was called while Charley went to the dugout for repairs. With a piece of tape on the wound, he returned to duty. Gelbert then ran into foul territory for a good catch of Grimm. But Dr. Harriet hit into a double play. Gelbert to Adams to Bottomley.

CARDINALS — Johnson filed to Stephenson. Douthitt singled over second. Douthitt was out stealing. Harriet to English. Hornsby threw out Adams.

THIRD — CUBS — Root struck out. English fouled to Bottomley. Blair filed to Douthitt.

CARDINALS — Frisch singled to center. Bottomley hit a home run into the pavilion in right center, knocking behind Frisch. Carlson received Root. Hafey singled off Blair's glove. Fisher singled to right. Hafey stopping at second.

It was Fisher's fifth straight hit in the series. Gelbert trying to bunt fouled to Harriet. J. Wilson fouled Fisher. English to Hornsby. On an attempted double steal Hafey was out at the plate. Harriet to English to Harriet. TWO RUNS.

DON, BRITISH RACE DRIVERS GOES HOME

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 16.—Kays Don, British automobile racer who landed here March 4 with high hopes of breaking the world's straightaway speed record, called for home today after a series of unsuccessful attempts at Daytona Beach, but with the assurance that he would return next year for another try.

"I had a net balance of 2500 pounds per hour," he said. "I would not have spent $10,000 on the trip home."

"Naturally I am coming back next year to make a new try. Even if the machine had worked perfectly we could not have made the time because of the condition of the beach. Of the 31 days we were at Daytona, 25 were rainy."

Don's first-run, 100-mile, The Silver Bullet, will be shipped next week when Louis Constant, its designer, also plans to return to England. Don was accompanied by the members of his mechanical staff.

PLAYERS RECOMMENDED BY WAGNER RELEASED
By the Associated Press.
TOLEDO, O., April 16.—Glen Smith, president of the Toledo club of the American Association, last night announced the release on option of infielder Henry Dauter, a Pittsburgh discovery of Hans Wagner, and Martin Bull, young catcher from Springfield, O., to the Canton club of the Central League.

National News Scheduled Oct. 22.
The national outdoor championships probably will be held at Madison, Conn., Oct. 13 and 14.

GROVE IS SET FOR BEST SEASON OF CAREER, CONNIE MACK SAYS

SIMMONS SIGNS CONTRACT AND THEN STARS IN OPENING GAME

By Connie Mack Manager, World Champion Athletics.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—It was an inspiring thing for the Athletics to start the new season with the same lineup they finished with in the 1935 world series and the boys began playing the kind of irrefutable baseball that they showed when they ended last October.

The Athletics defeated the Yanks, 6 to 2, before 22,000 persons yesterday and the victory was all the more pleasing because it was at the expense of the team which will be a real pennant opponent this season.

At Simmons' start, off to an opening day triumph under most dramatic circumstances. The Athletics had started batting practice and I had made all arrangements for Spencer Harris to play in left field, when Al visited my office and signed a 1936 contract.

Simmons quickly rushed down to the clubhouse and lost no time getting into a uniform. He was out on the field in time to get one stand at the plate in batting practice and how the fans did howl when they saw him for they realized that he would not have been in uniform unless he had put his signature on the dotted line.

Homer on First Trip.
When the game started Simmons lost no time performing one of his typical batting coups. In his first time at bat with Haas on base, Al drove the ball over the right field wall for a home run, and I don't think either Pippas or the Yanks ever recovered from that robust wallop.

Just as last season, the Athletics players waited for the race to start before they showed their real skill. The whole team worked like a machine. Shortstop Boley and Second Baseman Bishop never looked better on the defense and they flurried in two fine double plays. Bishop also proved what a wonderful leadoff man he is by hitting a single, drawing two passes and scoring three runs.

Then full credit must be tendered George Hays, who resumed all over center field, for making his catch of Ruth's curving line in the first inning. That ball curved sharply, with tremendous power back of it, yet Haas was able to get it. This was a harder chance than many spectators imagined, for the wind was blowing a gale at the time. The catch served to get Grove off right.

Set for Great Season.
Thereafter it was too much for him. He had wonderful stuff, complete confidence and only one of the two runs made off him was earned. Grove improved as the game went along and was unshakable in the final innings. He fanned nine Yanks and Tony Lazzeri, a dangerous right-handed batsman, was called out twice on strikes, while Ruth also fell on one occasion. It looks as if Grove is out to have the best season of his career.

The Athletics convinced me that they are going to set a pace this season that will be very difficult for their rivals to follow.

"VERSATILE" IS MIDDLE NAME OF IOWA STAR
By the Associated Press.
IOWA CITY, Ia., April 16.—Consider Jack Moulton, one of the University of Iowa's married men—agile acrobat, sparkling sprinter, 60-second quarter-mile and fastest of the Hawkeye 330-yard runners.
All of these assignments have been filled with distinction by the Council Bluffs man within the past six weeks.
Some of his versatility first became known in the middle of February when Moulton, place-winner in two Big Ten indoor championship half-mile races and lead-off man on the Drake relay team, performed on the gym team in the flying rings and tumbling events against Chicago. This occurred a few days after he had won the half-mile in the Carlton dual meet.
At the approach of the important track meet, he ceased his acrobatics altogether. Pete Walker, Marquette's Canadian Olympic team star, bowed to the Iowa in a 1:57-10 half mile, and when Orval Martin of Purdue lowered the conference indoor mark, Moulton trailed a few yards in his wake. Short an experienced lead-off man for the mile relay team at the time of the Illinois carnival, Coach G. T. Breanahan brought his senior star down to the quarter mile. The Hawkeye ran 61 seconds, one-fifth of a second slower than the Illinois armory track record, and faster than any of his teammates.

Fairman Sets Record.
JIM FAIRMAN, North Shore Country Club professional set a new record for his course Sunday when he went around in 64, six strokes under par. He was playing with Dr. Charles Leydecker, Tom Hunt, Jim Mulhern and Wilson Cartledge.

Wyndham Monroe, golf professional formerly of Midland Valley and Crystal Lake Country Clubs, has been appointed professional at the new pitch and putt course at De Baliviere and Delmar. Wyndham is to erect a driving net there provided he can get one. He started to the course with a driving net some 20 feet square in his car last week but, after stopping en route, discovered on his arrival that someone had stolen it.

REGULAR greens will be opened on the 18-hole municipal course in Forest Park soon and an army of players anxious to get in a little golf will swarm over the links. With the exception of the nine-hole course in Forest Park, used largely for beginners, it is the only public course in the city.

Many times in recent years, golfers have asked why St. Louis couldn't have more municipal courses and the answer invariably has been the lack of money, and even if funds were on hand, lack of space in public parks.

Detroit recently threw open its public links for the season and, not one course, but five, with a total of 72 holes. An additional nine-hole course is under construction, so that at the end of this year there will be 81 holes available for public play in Detroit.

The increase in publicly owned courses in eight years in Detroit has been phenomenal, jumping from one course with nine holes in 1921 to five courses with 75 holes in 1936.

And how the golfers have liked it! In 1932 there were 55,000 rounds played over the little nine-hole course, while last season 402,151 rounds were played over the public links in Detroit.

Speed in Stretch Gains Victory For Crazy Coot

BALTIMORE, April 16.—Crazy Coot, one of Harry Payne Whitney's many threats for the rich 1-year-old stakes of 1930, boosted his stock in the Freshness and Kentucky Derby as he led a good field of sprinters home in the Glen Oaks purse at Havre de Grace yesterday.
Carrying 130 pounds the son of Mad Hatter stepped the six furlongs in 1:14 1/2, 2-5 considered slow time for the condition of the track. But it was not so much the time as the impressive manner in which he scored that stamped him as a real contender for the coming $50,000 stakes at Pimlico and Churchill Downs.
The big chestnut colt, which won only one race in four starts as a juvenile for H. P. Whitney, broke a bit slow but Jockey Workman was not long in taking him to the front. He covered the half-mile in 47 3/4 seconds and was at the five furlong pole in 1:09 1/2. Through the stretch he toyed with his field, galloping past the judges' stand, the winner by three lengths. Billy Blake, a candidate for the Freshness from the Meadow Farm stable, ran second with Mrs. J. S. Dean's Freshness and Derby nominee third, Crazy Coot.

Teaberry Pays $305 for $5 at Tanforan Track

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 16.—The long odds of $105 on a $5 option ticket were paid at the Tanforan track yesterday when Teaberry won the third race, a five and one-half furlong sprint. Tanglefoot was second and Madame Valens, the favorite, was third. The time was 1:14 1/2.
The Tanforan betting permits only of wagers in units of $5. Other tracks have refunds on $5 bets.
Teaberry, a 12-year-old bay colt, was the favorite, paying $1.50 for a $2 mutuel.
The victory of Crazy Coot completed a double triumph for the Light Blue and Brown Topped Whitney Silks, equipping accounting for the juvenile feature labelled the Albarbaro purse. Hailed as the rival to Vanderbilt, the Whitney youngster, unbeaten in two starts, scored an easy triumph over the Rancocas stable's Schooner with Uncle Sam third.
Have Love for Basketball.
Stretch Murphy of Purdue and Branch McCracken of Indiana, two of the greatest basketball players in the history of the Big Ten, joined pro teams immediately after they had played their last game. They graduate in June.

McBride Meets Western in Prep League Contest

The McBride line, winner of the Prep League pennant last season, will undertake the defense of its title this afternoon when it meets Western Military Academy in a league game at Allen. The contest will be the first in the conference for both teams. Because of its better record in non-league play, McBride is favored to take the Calista. The encounter starts at 2:15.
With a more experienced lineup, and a veteran battery, the Calistans appear to have somewhat of an edge. Four lettermen will start for McBride, with Jim Purbin at second, Ralph Kaveny in the outfield, Powell behind the bat, and "Took" Durbin doing the hurling. Berger, letterman and utility infielder, will probably break into the game at first base.
In Powell, all-star Prep League catcher in 1929, and "Took" Durbin, a leading hurler in the circuit last season, Brother Wilfred, coach, seems to have one of the best batteries in the league. In both the contests in which he has played thus far, Powell has been batting over the 400 mark, while Durbin did a fine piece of work in his first start, downing Beaumont in a nip-and-tuck battle.
A catcher is seeking a tryout with an independent club. Phone EVergreen 0235.

PIERCE-ARROW ADDS to the New Straight Eight Line A Slightly Smaller, Equally Fine Car

at $2695

IN CREATING this newest car of today's Pierce-Arrow line, its designers and engineers achieved the seemingly impossible. There was permitted no departure from a single element of famed Pierce-Arrow fineness—no single compromise with the traditions which embrace America's finest motor car.

Model C, as a result, is endowed with every feature that contributes to the greatness of its distinguished line. It has, for example, the new Pierce-Arrow transmission—which permits quiet gear-shifting at any speed—and an intermediate like ordinary high. Also, of course, such features as non-shatterable glass, hydraulic shock absorbers, super-safety brakes—in fact, every device and appointment that promotes the safety and adds to the luxury of fine car ownership.

These new creations are of the same low-slung, slender elegance as distinguishes today's Pierce-Arrow the world over. The interiors and colorings are of equal beauty and distinction.

All things considered, no finer expression of Pierce-Arrow was ever before offered at so low a price. And, if one chooses to buy out of income, the amount each month is so modest a sum, comparatively, as to remove the last barrier from Pierce-Arrow ownership.

BROWN SAYS HOOVER WANTS AIR MAIL RATE INCREASED

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Postmaster-General Brown, disclosed before the House Rules Committee today that President Hoover had urged him to increase the air mail postal rate from 5 cents an ounce "ever since I have been in office."

Appearing before the committee in support of special legislative status for the Watra bill to change the basis of payment to air mail lines from poundage to mileage, the Postmaster-General said that "immediately after the bill is passed I intend to raise the air mail rate." The present rate of 5 cents an ounce for first-class air mail, he said, after the committee meeting, probably would be increased to 7 or 8 cents.

NAT. GOLDSTEIN LIKELY TO RUN FOR G. O. P. CITY COMMITTEE

Former Circuit Clerk Says Large Number of Candidates in 19th Ward Threatens Harmony.

Nat Goldstein, former Circuit Clerk and former member of the Republican City Committee for about 30 years, is considering running for the committee again, to represent the Nineteenth Ward. Filing time expires in June, and the election will be at the August primary.

Goldstein said today he had no desire to run, but might be "forced to," because of the many candidates in the ward. He thinks most of the candidates will withdraw if he entered the race, and thus party harmony would be maintained. Goldstein declared that no other party leaders were urging him to run, and asserted that factional differences had disappeared from the party.

On March 21, 1929, Goldstein's citizenship was restored, following conviction of participation in the Jack Daniel liquor conspiracy, by a pardon from President Hoover. He had been paroled previously from Leavenworth penitentiary, after serving eight months of a two-year sentence. At the time of the pardon Goldstein declared he was through with politics, and he reiterated today that he was not interested in himself in politics.

Former Newspaper Man and Publicity Man to Be Buried in Calvary Cemetery.

The funeral of John B. Sheridan, newspaper writer and publicity man, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow from the Donnelly undertaking parlor, 3544 Lindell boulevard, to St. Roch's Catholic Church, Waterman and Rosedale avenues. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Sheridan, who was 51 years old, ended his life yesterday at Alexian Brothers' Hospital, while in an overwrought nervous state. He hanged himself with a bathrobe cord. He had been a patient in the hospital several times in the last two years. He is survived by Mrs. Sheridan, a son and daughter by a former marriage, and two younger children. The family lives at 5747 Parkview avenue.

"Sherry," as he was known to a wide circle of acquaintances, was a native of Ireland, and for nearly 30 years was a writer of aporia, dramatic criticism, political and general news for St. Louis newspapers. He had an exceptional command of language and a wealth of allusions and illustrations, in writing, conversation and public speech. In 1921 he became manager of the Missouri Committee on Public Utility Information, which sought favorable publicity for electrical and power interests through the press and the schools. Some of the work proved distasteful to him and the correspondence disclosed in the Federal Trade Commission's inquiry of two years ago showed this. He offered his resignation, which was not accepted, but a nervous breakdown made it impossible for him to continue work.

Federal Farm Board Head, in Radio Address, Renews His Plea for Limit on Planting.

URGES 5 PCT. BE

Would Get Production More Nearly in Line With Domestic Market Requirements.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Chairman Egge of the Farm Board renewed today his appeal for a reduced wheat and cotton acreage as a measure of improving the finances of the farmer.

"Wheat growers are being urged to reduce their acreage 10 per cent," he said in a radio address. "The purpose is to get production more nearly in line with domestic market requirements so that the 42-cent tariff can be made more effective."

"In asking the wheat farmer to reduce his acreage the board is not asking him to reduce his income," he added. "Instead the board confidently believes his income will be improved."

"If he can get more money for four bushels of wheat than he now gets for five, what is the incentive for raising the extra bushel, exhausting the fertility of the soil and going to the extra labor of raising it, only in the last analysis to reduce his income, not to increase it?"

"Cotton farmers are being asked to improve the quality of their cotton as well as to limit planting to 40,000,000 acres, compared to 46,000,000 acres in 1929."

He suggested that the farmer restore the "rapidly disappearing woodlot" with the land available from smaller wheat and cotton plantings.

"The problem of excess production would be well on the way to solution of 5 per cent of the present acreage under cultivation on every farm were planted to trees," he predicted.

Farm Board Units Announced.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 15.—William G. Kellogg's resignation as an official in both the Grain Stabilization and Farmers' National Grain Corporation was announced yesterday, effective immediately.

In the first of the two corporations, both of which are sponsored by the Federal Farm Board, Kellogg was replaced a week ago as president by George S. Milnor of Alton, Ill., and was made a vice president.

Kellogg, formerly a Minneapolis grain broker, became general manager of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation three months ago and the Executive Committee's announcement of his resignation, forthcoming because of "pressure of other affairs," said that "during Kellogg's association with the corporation, its operations have shown a profit sufficient to enable it to prepare for handling the 1930 crop from its own profits."

Farm Board Credit.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 15.—Individual directors and members of the Southwestern Millers' League were on record today as favoring co-operation with the Federal Farm Board in its administration of the agricultural marketing act.

Speakers at the league's annual meeting here yesterday, attended by 150 members from six southwestern states, gave the board credit for holding up the price of wheat 15 to 20 cents after the stock market crash last fall and expressed confidence in the administration of the act, although some said they considered the act "fundamentally unsound."

The league went on record with a resolution congratulating the Farm Board in its selection of George S. Milnor as generalissimo of its grain operations.

J. B. Smith of Salina, Kan., chairman of the league's board of directors, was re-elected, and W. R. Duerr of Kansas City was named treasurer. The following were elected to the board: Thad I. Hoffman, Kansas City; George E. Hinckle, Kansas City; L. B. Jackson, Wichita; Chauncey Abbott Jr., Omaha; C. L. Cooper, Humboldt; Nab. D. J. Donahoe Jr., Ponca City, Ok.; E. H. Lehman, Geary, Ok.; J. FOR A PACKARD

Why not own one?

A Packard Standard Eight, priced even at twice as much as the car you are now driving, costs no more in the final analysis—if you keep it twice as long.

Here is the real secret of Packard ownership: Buy a Packard Standard Eight. Drive it for a year or two longer than was your habit with lower priced vehicles. Net cost is the same—and you have the supreme enjoyment of Packard performance, Packard luxury and Packard distinction.

But what about operating costs?

It costs no more to drive the Packard than any other car of like size. Gas, oil and tire expenses are no greater. Neither are the costs of license, insurance, garaging and repairs, in the aggregate. Slightly higher insurance charges for the Packard are offset by the lower repair costs which result from Packard quality.

Clearly Packard ownership costs no more. This means that in driving your car of similar size and trading it in every two years or so you are actually paying Packard transportation costs. Then why not have the Packard, with its unchanging, always-modern beauty, its year after year of superb performance?

Your present car accepted as cash

You can take possession of your Packard Standard Eight with no cash outlay, if your present car is of average value or better—for it will make or exceed the down payment. The remainder may be arranged on convenient monthly terms.

The price of the most popular model of the Packard Standard Eight—the five-passenger Sedan—is but $2485 at the factory. Ten other body styles are available on the 127½ and 134½-inch wheelbases at from $2425 to $2885.

Urges Hare System for Greater St. Louis.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ONE of your recent editorials called for suggestions for a name properly characterizing the suburban areas which will be included in the proposed metropolitan government. I suggest the simple name of "Outer St. Louis."

The considerations motivating the activities of the Metropolitan Commission seem always to be limited by expediency. Much can be said pro and con on that policy, too much for even brief summary here. I am convinced, however, that all of its advantages disappear when compromises in the selection of representatives are contemplated. I refer to the establishment of election districts both within and without the present city, these enlarged wards to elect all but one of the membership of the Council of the Metropolitan Government.

Observation in a number of cities in this country and abroad convinces me that election methods which we usually pursue defeat the processes of democratic government. We ought to adopt the Hare system of proportional representation which in essence applies scientific mathematical methods for obtaining as exact as possible a reflection of the majority and minority opinions which exist in any given community. The mechanics of this method happen to require that from three to five persons be chosen from districts in the community.

Hence I am concerned over the proposals not only to eliminate the use of proportional representation methods of election, but to break Inner and Outer St. Louis up into single-member election districts. Certainly there should be a careful examination of the latter by the thinking groups of the city if they are not to hamstring future efforts to apply science to government elections.

Traffic and Model Boating.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

FAR better it would be if our Park Commissioner would keep the machines off the drives around the lake used for sailing boats in Forest Park than to ban the boat-sailing itself. It seems probable, however, that this traffic congestion could be handled with the exercise of a little ingenuity. Must another beautiful custom be abolished by the authorities merely because it interferes with our modern American mania for getting places in a hurry?

Italy and France.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

OFFENTIMING you have some wonderful enlightening editorials on different subjects, but is only when you speak of Italy that your prejudicial attitude runs true to form.

A nation of 42,000,000 people cannot permit militaristic France to block her only avenues from the sea with a superior navy. She must keep the ocean lanes open, not only for her commerce but for the raw materials and food on which the existence of her people depend.

The necessity of a large navy for France to protect her colonies is only a subterfuge. The colonies can live and exist without the protection of the French navy. She has today the largest army in the world and, together with her allies, she has a military hegemony in Europe and is now seeking a naval superiority so that she can crush Italy at will.

No, my dear editor, the time is past when Italy was satisfied with the crumbs from the banquet of European diplomacy. She is a virile nation which will live in the concert of nations, not as an underdog but as an equal.

Remember that, thanks to France, Italy never received any of the German colonies or mandates. If there was a nation who was in need of a good colony to send her surplus population to, it was Italy. If you will take pains to study the reason for the present tension between the two nations you will come to the conclusion that Italy can preserve her independence as a nation only by demanding the parity which you condemn.

Prohibition Delenda Est.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

SOME time ago I read this item in a newspaper: "Survey reveals insanity cases in Illinois are increasing 1000 a year, and that all State asylums and hospitals are overcrowded."

Now that the insane asylums as well as the jails are overcrowded, and most of the good people are in the poorhouse, or on their way there, it is about time to know when the prohibitionists are going to blow the country up altogether.

The longer we have prohibition, the worse things get. Conditions will not improve until we cut the eighteenth amendment cancer out of the Constitution—prohibition delenda est.

CHARLES HOOPER.

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

THE GREATER ACHIEVEMENT.

Mr. Hoover is quite right in saying that the real achievement of the London conference was more moral than material. Details of the agreement interest the world much less than the fact of agreement itself.

It is not so that civilization has come to its present estate. Nor would it be so now except for the disposition of the United States to make a beneficial use of her power. It is one thing for the United States as the great creditor nation to propose an understanding as to navies. It would be something else for nations which cannot afford naval competition with us to make such a proposal to the United States. We cannot claim for ourselves, because we are disposed to make something better than the traditional and historical use of our superior strength, that we are a more virtuous people than those who have not followed the course we are trying to follow. It is because, as Mr. Hoover said in his address before the Daughters of the American Revolution, of our geographical position. The President added:

We are not only more free from attack, but our people are more free from the haunting fear of attack than are any other people in the world. Because of these blessings, because of our inherited ideals of humanity and liberty, because of our strength, because of our disinterestedness, because of our freedom from these tormenting fears, there rests upon the United States a moral and spiritual duty to undertake a part in securing the peace of the world.

It is significant that the British, who have admitted to their equals on the sea, are more jubilant over the three-power agreement than we are in the United States. That is because the fate of Great Britain hung in the balance at the moment when the strength of the United States surpassed her own. Only a people who had themselves ruled the waves could feel just what Britain feels about the entire willingness of the United States to make this historical succession mean the end of naval competition. If the United States were a belligerent nation, as Britain was when she succeeded Spain as mistress of the seas, the dilemma of the British would be far removed from their present feeling of relief.

The London conference has brought all the English-speaking peoples together in a new relation. There is no alliance between Great Britain and the United States, notwithstanding the French were apprehensive that what Messrs. Hoover and MacDonald were doing would result in what amounted to an alliance. However, there is between them a resolve to pit their joint strength and wisdom against civilization's tendency to destroy itself. Except for them civilization is without any real stabilizer. The French, who are often called the most highly civilized of all peoples, are in mortal terror of their future and armed to the teeth. The Germans, who probably mean more to that age of science in which we live than any other people in the world, are disarmed and without even that means of self-defense which every other civilized nation considers essential. Italy, to whom we largely owe civilization, is afloat with the dream of reviving the grandeur that was Rome. The effect of such a relation as that into which the London agreement has brought the English-speaking peoples could be much greater than we can readily imagine at the moment. The New York Times has this in mind. It says:

The principle of establishing and maintaining friendly relations and a tacit understanding of cooperation between Great Britain and the United States has now become cardinal in the policy of the Governments of both of them. From this should flow large benefits to the people not only of these two countries but of others. In the shadow of such an unwritten pledge—it might be called a "gentlemen's agreement"—Continental nations may in time come to feel that they have an added security. Much will depend upon the magnanimity and the sincerity with which this Anglo-American understanding is carried out and made to appear as a great safeguard of peace between all nations.

Perhaps that is true. If so, history will as little care what the comparative tonnage figures were in the London agreement as we care today.

A PROMISE OF COOLNESS IN SUMMER.

Man long ago learned to warm his dwelling in winter, and it was only a question of time until he learned to cool it in summer. The era of the home cooling system has been brought to our doorsteps by discovery of a cheap refrigerant which, although it goes by the awesome name of fluorochloromethane, is nonpoisonous. It will soon be possible to keep the bedroom at one's favorite temperature all summer. Families will get along better through the torrid months by benefit of pleasant coolness usually found at that season only in the mountains, the feebly or the movie theater. In holds of steamships and in mines, where poisonous refrigerants would be fatal in case of accident, the new substance will be a boon to workers. Persons accustomed to Northern climates will be able to travel or live in the tropics without danger when hotels and homes are equipped with it. Lives of sufferers in hospitals will be saved, and infants arriving when the mercury mounts high will have a better chance for survival.

But there is one drawback, and a serious one: The stuff is intoxicating. So we'll have to use it in one-half of 1 per cent solution, and that won't make our summers any better.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY'S RISE.

One of the most interesting sets of figures in the whole decennial census of the United States now being completed will be the data on St. Louis County. This information will reflect the striking development of that suburban region in the last 10 years. The 1920 census gave the county just over 100,000 population. It is estimated to have now at least 200,000, and some observers credit it with considerably more.

Many changes have occurred in the county in the last decade, besides the doubling of population. Its physical aspect and its civic consciousness have been materially altered. The suburban towns have grown in number as well as in size, and they have prospered. University City, a young village 20 years ago and a small town 10 years ago, has become a handsome, prosperous, progressive municipality, the fifth city in Missouri in size, rivaling Springfield. The other suburbs have shown much similar progress, and attractive new residential villages have sprung up.

A decided tendency has been shown to get away from the old political machine control of the county government, and the people have realized that the antiquated form of county administration no longer is suitable for the complex needs of a modern community.

of this size. This situation has culminated in the movement now well under way to establish a metropolitan authority over St. Louis and the county. Experts believe that within a few decades the county population will be as large as the city's. There is no time to lose in making and undertaking plans for the physical development to keep up with this growth. St. Louis County is no longer the slow-moving, secluded region it was before the World War. It is a lusty unit of Greater St. Louis, as the census will show.

CONTEMPTIBLE POLITICS.

The action of the Republican leaders in the House of Representatives in pigeonholing the Norris bill, providing for Government operation of the Government plant at Muscle Shoals, is a performance that deserves the outspoken condemnation of the entire country. It can be explained only as a piece of contemptible politics, an act of subservience to the power and chemical interests, or a combination of both, and in either case it is indefensible.

Passed twice by the Senate, and once by the House, the measure admittedly comprises the Government's only hope of recovering the $125,000,000 of public funds invested in the property. Moreover, it constitutes a promise of cheap electric power to the householders and industries of six Southern States, and affords an opportunity whereby the Government may ascertain the cost of producing power on a large scale, and hence of determining the reasonableness of the rates now charged by privately owned companies.

The old guard leaders in the House profess to believe that there remains a possibility of leasing the property to private interests on favorable terms. Assuming that the Government could afford to dispense with all the advantages that public operation would afford, the fact is that after 10 years of waiting for an acceptable offer from private interests, the only pending bid is that of the American Cyanamid and Union Carbide companies, whose reprehensible lobbying activities, as disclosed by the Caraway committee, make any consideration of their bid unthinkable.

It is obvious that the real motive of the House leaders is to prevent any Muscle Shoals legislation at this session of Congress. Delay serves the purpose of the power and chemical companies that still hope to grab Muscle Shoals, and it saves the Alabama Power Co. from the competition of economical, publicly produced power. The sufferers, of course, are the taxpayers of the United States and the householders and industries of Alabama and adjoining states.

The American people should remember the names of the three willful leaders who have thus added another offense to the long series of injuries and affronts which they had already perpetrated against democratic government in the House of Representatives. They are Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, John Tilson of Connecticut, and Bertrand Snell of New York.

A JUDGE'S VIEW OF "SATYRICON."

Some anonymous snapper had Gerald Nedwick, Chicago bookseller, haled into court for selling Petronius' "Satyricon," the charge being that the book is obscene. Petronius was a favorite of Nero, who was Emperor of Rome from 54 to 68 A. D., and was known as the arbitrator elegantiarum, or the Ward Master of Nero's court. "Satyricon," generally considered to be the work of Petronius, has graduated long since into the Valhalla of literature ineptly called "the classics." It is of immense value to historians because it preserves the dialect of the Roman plebeians, or lower classes.

Of its value to snut-seekers we submit the opinion of the magistrate before whom Bookseller Nedwick was brought:

It is tiresome to read, but having read it, I discharge the defendant. That is a fitting rebuke to the snapper, as well as a guarantee that "Satyricon" will not become a best seller. As a matter of fact, a good many of the classics designated by customs officers and other guardians of our morals as obscene are of interest only to scholars, a fact which in itself exposes the smutmouths to the ridicule they deserve.

HADRIAN'S WALL AND THE MACHINE AGE.

Hadrian's wall, across Northern England, was stronger than the Roman power it represented. The very act of its building, in about 122 A. D., showed a Rome on the defensive even at the height of its westward expansion. The wall was taken but never destroyed by invading Picts and Scots as the legions, weakened by withdrawals to defend Rome from barbarian onslaughts, fell steadily backward. Although rebellious Angles wiped out the Roman authority, the wall still stood. Nor have time and weather eroded it from the landscape. Today its 73-mile stretch of wall, fort and earthwork may be distinguished winding across the Northumberland moors and hills. But not much longer will these ruins delight the antiquarian, if current fears are valid.

For a material known as whinstone, of particular merit for auto roads, has been found to underlie the wall. An enterprising concern already has a 21-year lease to quarry the billion tons of the substance which the Northumberlandshire region is said to contain. Antiquarians are embattled. The quarrying, they say, will deface the countryside and leave the wall's remains "on the edge of high cliffs standing out on the skyline as a monument to this generation's vandalism." The promoters, stubbornly unsentimental, cite the employment they will give and the good roads they will provide.

Truly the machine age is making a different world.

THE D. A. R. HAS GONE TORT.

Meeting in annual convention at Washington, the Daughters of the American Revolution are warned by their president-general, Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, against the "forces of radicalism from without." The warning is followed by "vigorous applause." The honorary president-general then arises, asserts that the eighteenth amendment will never be repealed, and predicts prohibition will be more successfully "upheld with each succeeding year."

The Daughters of the American Revolution are the descendants of the courageous Colonials who set the fashion of republican government on the western continent. That the organization has turned traitor to the cause of freedom for which the fathers fought is obvious enough, but there is subtle humor in the fact that the organization these women so strongly cling to had its foundation in what the daughters would probably term "forces of radicalism from within." The Daughters of the American Revolution have gone Tort.

WHAT ABOUT THIS LAW?

Will Europe Be Americanized?

Old World faces problem of adopting economic methods of U. S. or rejecting them to maintain own personality; uniformity and mass output foreign to Europe's traditions; her artisans excel where quality is desired, not having been conquered by machine, as in America; question is: which shall rank higher, the tool or the man?

Andre Siegfried in the Yale Review (Reprinted by Special Permission.)

THE world's evolution during the last 20 years has been marked by two opposite movements of primary importance.

On the one hand, a thoroughly civilized state of mind, whose source is not book knowledge but a complete adaptation of the individual to the tasks he accepts and loves. It is doubtful whether mass production and intense mechanization, as we see them growing everywhere, would allow such a class to maintain itself in Europe. In America, it is already largely a thing of the past.

The significance and extent of the transformations which are being and will be brought by the American experiment are far from realized by most people, and even by those who admit them most. It would not be excessive to speak of them as a revolution, just as we speak of the industrial revolution in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. I should even be tempted to describe the movement as the beginning of a new age in humanity, which we might call the American age, hardly less important in the evolution of the human race than the stone or the iron age.

Europe, especially Northern Europe, certainly had visualized, to a large extent, the main principles which are now transforming modern production, but the scene and environment of a virgin continent, free from the ties of the past, perhaps the condition necessary for a fresh and full application of the new order. After starting the industrial revolution long before America, the old continent has been unable to develop its far-reaching consequences, not on account of any technical inferiority, but chiefly because its social structure did not allow of easy changes in an already ancient and adult organism. Being conscious of her immense wealth in achievements of civilization, Europe naturally considers that she has something to lose, and if future civilization is too often agrarian in terms of production, no wonder her best minds feel some reluctance in moving toward this goal.

I do not want, of course, to suggest that America is materialistic, in contrast with an idealistic Europe; it would not be true. But I feel entitled to say that in its conception of a new order, America has, above all, emphasized the prestige of production. Rightly or wrongly, we fear that the individual, considered not as a producer or as a consumer, but as a human being, may appear in the long run to be the loser.

What, finally, do we wish mankind to stand for: the individual as a thinking unit, or as a unit of production? If, today or tomorrow, the human race prefers to be well equipped, comfortable, with a high standard of living, the answer is clear: it will follow Ford and Hoover. We make no mistake about it; we know perfectly well that, for the present, it is on the American plan that the world is revising its estimates. Yet, if humanity is ever again preoccupied with the question of the individual, his thoughts and his right to think for himself, irrespective of economic production, then it will not be talks about refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and efficiency which will move the world. Old passions, new unknown in new and strange countries, may win again the hearts of men.

WASHINGTON, April 14.

UNLESS all signs fail, this city, after Easter and for the ensuing two months will experience the most brilliant social period it has known in years.

There can be no denying the fact that society in Washington thus far during the first Hoover season has had the best against it. Hostesses have been harried and social secretaries exasperated almost to the breaking point. Since official society in the capital takes its cue from the White House, there was nothing to do but acquiesce as gracefully as possible. But has been exceedingly trying. And at the same time unfortunates.

For when the Coolidges were in the White House, it was more or less understood that they looked upon things social and maintained the social activities of the White House more in the spirit of duty than for the love of it. Not so with the Hoovers. It was soon evident that the present occupants of the White House were socially inclined.

So when, from the mansion on Pennsylvania avenue, came the announcement of the most elaborate plan of entertainment in the history of the White House, Washington society dug itself in prepared for its gayest of all seasons. But the dream was quickly shattered.

First came the sudden death of Secretary of War Good. President Hoover, out of respect for the death of his Cabinet officer, declared all White House functions for December canceled. Included in the were the brilliant diplomatic reception at the annual Cabinet dinner.

Before social activity got under way again, Chief Justice Taft was stricken with his fatal illness. This threw a pall on things social. During the latter part of Taft's illness virtually every function was canceled, including more White House state parties, the last two of the Cabinet dinners in honor of the President and Mrs. Hoover, and any number of Vice President Clegg's engagements. With the death of the former President, society came to a complete standstill.

COURT MOURNING for Taft ended April 8, but inasmuch as the White House is observing Lent, the belated season will not have a fair chance until after Easter.

The end of the Lenten period will be the signal for an attempt to relieve congested social calendars. The White House, for example, had scheduled 14 functions at the start. Of these only six have been given. Others find themselves in much the same situation.

Hostesses and social secretaries are far from despair. Instead, they eagerly look forward to the prospects of the gayest "little season" in years. Congress will be in session almost until the season is over, and perhaps longer. Then, too, it is Washington's boast that spring finds the capital at its most beautiful and best.

CONQUERING OUR GREAT PLAINS. By Stuart Henry (E. P. Dutton & Co., N. Y., 1929). For those who conceive Western history as an integral and important part of American history, it is a great and relatively rare pleasure to come upon a work that, although written for popular reading, presents some phase of Western development in an authoritative and definitive manner. Stuart Henry has written such a work in "Conquering Our Great Plains."

It might be argued that the title is too comprehensive for the subject matter, since the author is concerned chiefly with that portion of the Plains country which was contributory to Abilene in the boisterous years of its fame—that is to say, Kansas and Texas. But when one considers the forces that entered into the taming of the great central West, the title is seen to be justified, the Abilene episode being highly typical of a major phase of that taming.

Abilene in the days of the longhorn herds and the expert man-handlers has been a favorite of Wild West fictionists with the result that the wildly romantic expectations of the reading and movie public have greatly favored the pseudo-historian in his eagerness to produce a saleable book bearing on the subject. In writing of the old West for Eastern readers in general and even for a great majority of Western readers, it has been proved an easy matter to get away with the literary and historical equivalent of bloody murder. Yet the truth about any great human movement is fairly certain to be much more fascinating than any romantic lie about it. After all, there is no story-teller like historical Chance weaving realistically in the romantic stuff of human passions, desires, meannesses, nobilities and heroisms.

Stuart Henry, who is now 70 years old, went to Abilene with his family in the spring of 1888 at the age of 7 1/2. He grew up in the brawling town and was an eager-eyed witness to the stirring events that characterized the life of the place in the late '80s and early '90s. CONQUERING OUR GREAT PLAINS By Stuart Henry (E. P. Dutton &amp; Co., N. Y., 15.)

For those who conceive Western history as an integral and important part of American history, it is a great and relatively rare pleasure to come upon a work that, although written for popular reading, presents some phase of Western development in an authoritative and definitive manner. Stuart Henry has written such a work in "Conquering Our Great Plains."

It might be argued that the title is too comprehensive for the subject matter, since the author is concerned chiefly with that portion of the Plains country which was contributory to Abilene in the boisterous years of its fame—that is to say, Kansas and Texas. But when one considers the author's philosophical grasp of the forces that resulted in the taming of the great West, the title is seen to be justified. The Abilene episode being highly typical of a major phase of that taming.

Abilene in the days of the long-horn herds and the expert man-handlers has been a favorite of Wild West fictionists with the result that the wildly romantic expectations of the reading and movie public have greatly favored the pseudo-historian in his eagerness to produce a salable book bearing on the subject. In writing of the old West for Eastern readers in general and even for a great majority of Western readers, it has been an easy matter to get away with the literary and historical equivalent of bloody murder. To the truth about any great human movement is fairly certain to be much more fascinating than any romantic lie about it. After all, there is no story-teller like historical Chance weaving realistically in the romantic stuff of human passions, desires, meannesses, nobilities and heroisms.

Stuart Henry, who is now 70 years old, went to Abilene with his family in the spring of 1883 at the age of 15. He grew up in an eager witness to the stirring events that characterized the life of the town in the late '80s and early '90s. Tom Smith, the famous marshal, who single-handedly subdued the wild town in 1870, and Wild Bill Hickok, who succeeded Smith as the town's law officer, were familiar figures to the boy, as were all the other famous or notorious characters of the day. The desperate strife between the nomadic conception of life, as represented by the Texas cowmen, and civilization, as represented by the Northern farmer, was a part of his youthful experience; and he saw the Winter Wheat wipe out the Chisholm Trail.

The vital heart of the book is admirably indicated by the following passage: "It was to be the picturesque and adventurous against the prosaic and humdrum. It was to be the migratory against the domestic, and lawlessness versus law. It was to be the herder's camp against the family. It was not only to be a desultory conflict between ranch and home, but between granger and settler, between grass and grain, between raw beef and market beef. It was, in brief, to be the Texas longhorn against the northern short-horn." Thus it will be seen that Stuart Henry's story of Abilene is a social study as well as a stirring tale.

Mr. Henry has told his story in a simple, manly way that takes no account of the popular taste for sensationalism; and yet to read the book is truly a thrilling experience. Realizing that his own unaided memories would be insufficient for a "comprehensive and authoritative work," he has evidently been at great pains, as he tells us, "to verify and extend his own knowledge and understanding of the facts by the testimony of other eye-witnesses or men in position to know the truth, and by official documents." Many misconceptions that have gained currency are corrected in an uncontentious and convincing way, and the misrepresentations of certain of the more conspicuous writers on the subject are examined in detail.

It is to be expected that "Conquering Our Great Plains" will survive as a work of authority in its field.

HELEN WILLS MOODY EXHIBITS DRAWINGS

Tennis Champion Has Sold Nine of 29 Works Displayed in New York.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Mrs. Frederick S. Moody, as Helen Wills woman tennis champion of the United States—presided today at the first exhibit of her drawings. As she stood in the midst of her exhibition at Grand Central Art Galleries and talked and smiled and gestured.

She already has sold nine of the 29 watercolors that she is exhibiting, and every one of the nine has been bought by an art collector. "All but one of her drawings are of famous tennis players. Her subjects are Bill Tilden, Suzanne Lenglen, Lili de Alvarez, and even Helen Wills herself.

They are lively 10-inch figures, drawn in soft black pencil, tinted with water color and filled with the verve and dash and spirit that mark her tennis play.

"I don't believe in striving for modernistic effects in art if you aren't naturally inclined that way," she said. "I just draw things as I feel them and let it go at that."

At home in San Francisco she paints all morning, takes a hasty bite of lunch, and is on the tennis courts by noon. The evenings she spends with her husband, at parties and at the theater. She refuses to waste any time on bridge.

Mrs. Moody, who sails next week for the tennis tournaments in Europe, will wield her racquet on French and English courts under her proper name of Mrs. Moody, but as an artist she is going to remain Helen Wills.

"I'm a professional painter, but an amateur tennis player," is her explanation, "and I couldn't continue to play tennis as Helen Wills. It wouldn't look well."

Her husband, she confided, is very much interested in her drawings. In fact, he is much more enthusiastic about them than about her tennis.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 16.

OLD timers of the stage and screen are finding the problem of making a new book as difficult as ever before. Each branch of the entertainment field demands, not only new faces but above all else the glamour of youth. So The Rialto is humming with new songs.

In the legitimate theater this winter the majority of successes exploited stars in early twenties. More than 100 players of stellar capacities suddenly found themselves eddied to backwaters almost solely because they were past the age of 40. Such stars as Wilton Lackaye and others portrayed comparatively minor roles.

Many who expected to find parts in the talkies discovered their voices did not meet the demands of synchronization. Any number of headlines have given up the struggle for jobs in their profession and are turning to anything that will provide a livelihood.

Still others are going "out West to Australia"—an acknowledgment in the stage world that their professional careers so far as America is concerned are over. The "original New York company" lost its lure in the outland. There is no hope there.

Innumerable men and women whose names were box office attractions 10 years and less ago are marking time on Hollywood boulevard and Broadway waiting for a shift in economic clouds and because of their usual improvidence, there are many in actual distress.

Now and then something happens to give old timers renewed hope, such as the hit made by Miss Grace George this winter or the success of the revival of William Gillette in "Sherlock Holmes," but these instances are sporadic and do not promise a permanent return to affluence.

Talkie producers have found they can now "make" a star almost overnight and reap hefty rewards without paying the extravagant salaries demanded by those who made the grade several years ago. On the legitimate stage 15 recognized stars the passing season had excellent vehicles but did not attract.

DR. EINSTEIN ELUCIDATES HIS UNIFORM FIELD THEORY

BERLIN, April 16.—At a meeting of the Prussian Academy of Sciences last night, Dr. Albert Einstein elucidated his latest work on the uniform field theory, aiming at establishing uniformity in the fields of electricity and gravity, that is to say, in the surroundings of electric or heavy bodies in which the effects of these bodies become noticeable.

To make it possible to embrace these phenomena in the same viewpoint with the aid of the same mathematical equations, is the object of Einstein's uniform field theory. This aims at nothing less than a sweeping simplification of methods for calculating the physical cosmos.

Dr. Einstein described the points of view he had started from in order to arrive at his field equations. In these, besides the assumption of coherent variability laid down in his relativity theory, his assumption of the compatibility of the equations plays most important role, since more equations exist than are required for determining the size and function of bodies.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, April 16.

NELESS all signs fall, this city, as Easter and for the ensuing two months will experience the most brilliant social period it has known in years.

There can be no denying the fact that the city in Washington thus far during the Hoover season has had the break against it. Hostesses have been harried and social secretaries exasperated almost to the breaking point. Since official society in capital takes its cue from the White House, there was nothing to do but acquiesce as gracefully as possible. But it has been exceedingly trying. And at the same time unfortunate.

For when the Coolidges were in the White House, it was more or less understood that they looked upon things social and maintained the social activities of the White House more in the spirit of duty than for the love of it. Not so with the Hoovers. It was soon evident that the present occupants of the White House were socially inclined.

When, from the mansion on Pennsylvania avenue, came the announcement of the most elaborate plan of entertainment in the history of the White House, Washington society dug itself in for its gayest of all seasons. But dream was quickly shattered.

First came the sudden death of Secretary War Good, President Hoover, out of respect for the death of his Cabinet officer, declared all White House functions December canceled. Included in the brilliant diplomatic reception and annual Cabinet dinner.

Before social activity got under way in Chief Justice Taft was stricken with fatal illness. This threw a pall on things social. During the latter part of Taft's illness virtually every function was canceled, including more White House state dinners, the last two of the Cabinet dinners of the President and Mrs. Hoover, any number of Vice President Currier's engagements. With the death of the President, society came to a complete detail.

"MOURNING" for Taft ended April 8, but inasmuch as the White House is observing Lent, the belated social will not have a fair chance until after Easter.

At the end of the Lenten period will be a signal for an attempt to relieve the social calendar. The White House, example, had scheduled 14 functions to start. Of these only six have been started. Others find themselves in much the same situation.

Hostesses and social secretaries are far from despair. Instead, they eagerly look forward to the prospects of the gayest season in years. Congress will be in session almost until the season is over, perhaps longer. Then, too, it is Washington's boast that spring finds the capital at its most beautiful and best.

OPEN VERDICT IN KILLING OF MAN BY LINDELL BUS

One Witness Testifies Anthony Czajkowski Appeared to Throw Himself Under Wheel.

An open verdict was returned by a coroner's jury today in the death of Anthony Czajkowski, 29 years old, 3420 Bell avenue, who was hit yesterday by a People's motorbus on Lindell drive near Union boulevard.

A witness testified Czajkowski, who was released from the City Sanitarium less than a month ago, was seated on the curb and appeared to throw himself beneath the right rear wheel of the bus. The wheel passed over his chest and he was pronounced dead at Barnes Hospital. Walter Willis of Percy, Ill., one of four persons in the automobile of Ralph Deppe, 1056 State street, East St. Louis, which was struck by a street car at 6800 North Broadway yesterday, is at City Hospital with fractured ribs and internal injuries. Deppe, Lester Martin of Lockwood, Ill., and John Steinbeck, Bardwell, Ky., were cut and bruised. The driver said he swerved into the tracks to avoid being struck by a truck.

SEEKS TO REMOVE NEW MOON OFFICERS

Bill of Complaint Filed in Delaware by Son of Founder and P. R. Glick.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 15.—A bill of complaint charging that the special meeting of stockholders of the Moon Motor Car Co. held in St. Louis April 7 was illegal and that eight new directors elected at the meeting and a new set of officers subsequently elected are not entitled to hold office, was filed in Chancery Court here today by Stanley Moon and Philip P. Glick of St. Louis, stockholders.

The Chancery Court issued an order directing the new directors and officers named defendants to file an answer April 25.

The complainants allege no notice of the special meeting was given the stockholders and no quorum was present. The court is asked to decree the meeting invalid and the election of new officers and directors null and void, and to reinstate the old board of seven members and the old officers in control.

Moon, son of the company's founder, was secretary under President Carl W. Burst, whose regime ended last Monday when the new president, William Muller, and his associates, took possession of the company's plant by virtue of a temporary order issued by Circuit Judge Peary, restraining old employees from interfering with the new management. Muller and his associates recently acquired a majority of the company's stock in exchange for cash and patents.

be held Tuesday. Between 70 and 80 per cent of the treaty drafting was complete today and the draft ought to be finished tomorrow.

Prepare Two Parallel Texts.

Measures are being taken to save every possible minute in getting the draft ready for submission to the home governments of the delegations. To expedite matters, the drafting committees are working on two parallel texts, one in English and the other in French, instead of writing it first in one language and translating it to another.

Admiral Takarabe, Minister of the Navy in the Japanese Cabinet, will leave here directly after the plenary session for Tokyo, by way of the Trans-Siberian Railway. It is doubted whether he will reach his home quickly enough to be present at the special session of the Diet. Wakatsuki and other members of the Japanese delegation expect to take a short trip to France and Italy after the conference is over, sailing from Marseilles in the early part of May.

Parley Only Preliminary Step Toward Disarmament, Briand Says. PARIS, April 15.—Foreign Minister Briand told the Committee on Foreign Affairs in the Chamber of Deputies today he hoped that an agreement on the naval questions would be reached between France and Italy.

In a reply to a question by former Premier Edouard Herriot, Briand repeated that the London conference was only a preliminary step toward general disarmament, solution of which must be negotiated through the League of Nations.

Grandi and Sirlanni to Be Welcomed to Rome Tonight. By the Associated Press. ROME, April 15.—A warm welcome awaits Foreign Minister Grandi and Admiral Sirlanni when they return tonight from the London Naval Conference.

The newspapers are high in their praise of the Italian delegates. Ciriole d'Italia says that they have faithfully defended Italy's interests and done her honor in difficult international competition. Tribuna rejoices that they did not yield to pressure and renounce the claim for parity with France.

Six Nebraska Banks Close.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 15.—Six small banks in Saunders County, with deposits aggregating $1,400,000, have been closed within the last two days. They were part of a chain in which F. J. Kirchmans had the controlling interest. The break came when the Saunders County National Bank, with deposits of $500,000, and the Nebraska State Savings Bank, both in Wahoo, closed.

Further Newspaper Rate Hearings. By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Additional evidence relating to rates on newspaper from Canada to destinations in the United States is to be received by the Interstate Commerce Commission May 5 in New York City. Extensive hearings were held by the commission several months ago at Atlantic City and a date set for the carriers and the petitioners for lower freighting rates to file briefs, but this date was set aside today in the order providing for further hearings.

A new, delicious cereal by HEINZ of "57" fame supplies a "VEGETABLE EFFECT" See what it does for children

Here are luscious, crunchy, oven-toasted rice flakes—daintiest you've ever tasted—offering one of vegetables' best effects. It means help in regulating the important health habits of children with complete cooperation on the children's part. HEINZ has accomplished this unusual result by including in these flavory flakes a fine cereal-cellulose, a natural food-substance which is a part of rice itself. Children are conscious only of an alluring food. HEINZ has spent eight years in developing this rare combination after sixty years' experience in food making.

NO BRAN IN IT

This remarkable new product contains no bran—nothing harsh or irritating in any way whatever. It is effective in a different manner. When moisture is absorbed (after eating) the volume of the cereal-cellulose increases four to six times.

Thus an entirely natural mild, gentle bulk and roughage is created—high in efficiency, like that formed by the best vegetables.

Think of clothing such a benefit in flakes that stand unique among all breakfast foods even though you judge them by flavor, or daintiness of texture only!

HEINZ Rice Flakes supply all of the usual energizing food value of rice in addition to this feature. Don't use in place of vegetables, of course, because certain food-essentials can come through vegetables alone. Let HEINZ Rice Flakes supplement the vegetable diet.

Make this test: Get a children's jury to try HEINZ RICE FLAKES on the point of flavor solely! Then serve twice daily for one week to start the benefits; once daily thereafter to maintain them.

That will tell the story far better than we can in print. If not the most delicious and effective cereal you've ever known, your grocer will cheerfully refund the purchase price. But we believe HEINZ Rice Flakes will be on your pantry shelf to stay!

Remember, no other cereal of any type provides this extraordinary feature. A HEINZ patent controls it. To get it for your children, therefore, you must insist on HEINZ Rice Flakes. They are just as good for grown-ups as for children.

leaders in the civil disobedience movement. Of the nine Europeans in the hospital two are women. One was injured seriously, while another man was in grave condition. Of 50 injured in the disturbances beginning yesterday morning, 15 were police and 11 firemen.

Police finally routed the mob and arrested 20 of their number, nine being found on roof tops with piles of bricks and stones beside them. Europeans driving home after the evening out were stoned. Street cars were stoned and several wrecked.

Gandhi Addresses Women. Mahatma Gandhi spent yesterday in the village of Umber, where he spoke twice. He exhorted a group of women to take part in the campaign and called attention to the arrest of Pandit Nehru, saying "He has been punished because he is the greatest of us all."

The second speech was to the men, whom he urged to defend the salt pans with their lives. "From your sufferings will rise into being not only complete independence but a non-violent army for its defense," he told them.

Answering a telegram from the president of Bombay provincial committee inviting him to Bombay, Gandhi replied: "I am hourly needed in Gujarat to consolidate my work but I will come when I am absolutely needed."

Two disobedience leaders of Madras lost their automobiles yesterday because of their activity in the campaign. When the former Assemblyman, Prakasam, and a newspaper editor, Nageswara Rao, refused to pay fines their cars were taken.

ARRESTED IN MURDER OF ST. LOUIS GANGSTER

Michael Martin, Under Indictment in Reinhardt Killing, Caught Near Pekin, Ill.

Michael Martin, who is under indictment in St. Clair County for the murder of John Reinhardt, St. Louis gangster, and who was sought for questioning in the $47,800 robbery of a collector for the First National Bank of East St. Louis, was arrested near Pekin, Ill., Monday. Martin gave his address as 2530A Warren street, St. Louis.

Three companions arrested with Martin were found to be robbery suspects wanted in Peoria, according to Sheriff E. L. Fleming, who made the arrests. When the Sheriff and deputies rushed into a cottage in which the men had been living for the last month, Martin is said to have reached for a loaded revolver he carried in his pocket. Finding himself covered by the officers' revolvers, he surrendered and handed over his own weapon.

Martin was one of five men indicted in the killing of Reinhardt, which took place in an East St. Louis resort on July 15, 1928. Don Shelton of East St. Louis was the only one of the five captured at the time, and is serving a term in the Southern Illinois Penitentiary for manslaughter. Reinhardt was killed following a quarrel over the relative merits of gunmen of St. Louis and Cicero, Ill.

The $47,800 holdup occurred on Eads Bridge July 15, 1928. Claude E. Mattingley, collector for the real estate department of the First National Bank of East St. Louis, was held up by four men in an automobile while crossing the bridge. The robbers threatened Mattingley, but did not harm him. Following the holdup they escaped in the direction of East St. Louis.

INDIANS HAVE ANTS SEW THEIR WOUNDS, EXPLORER REPORTS

Type With Powerful Jaws Used by Peruvian Tribe for Surgical Work.

CHICAGO, April 15.—The use of

"surgical ants" with powerful jaws to stitch the wounds of human beings and other primitive medical practices developed by the Indians living far in the interior of Peru, are described in a report received today at Field Museum from an expedition to the Amazon.

Llewellyn Williams, leader of the expedition, writes:

"In the case of a geyling wound, a certain ant which has very powerful jaws is sought, and the ant is made to bite severed edges of the cut skin and thus bring them into juxtaposition. In the operation the ant-surgeon loses its own life, for after it has drawn the skin closed with its jaws, its body is snipped off and the lifeless head remains with its grip on the skin until the wound is healed. Sometimes these Indians are found with half a dozen of these ants' heads holding a large wound closed."

Trestle Worker Killed in Fall.

BLUFORD, Ill., April 15.—John Davis, 27 years old, an ironworker employed by the Illinois Central Railroad in the construction of a trestle here, was killed yesterday when he lost his footing on the trestle and fell 60 feet to the ground. Davis lived at Lenzburg, Ill., with his wife and two children.

Opportunities That Slip Away

EVERY day, opportunities arise for some people that might affect their entire lives -- might mean the difference between real success, and failure or mediocrity.

Very often a cash investment is necessary. Very often a cash reserve to meet living expenses temporarily is essential.

Every day opportunities offer themselves, and every day many are eagerly grasped. But equally as many are lost because of the lack of capital to invest, or sufficient cash to justify giving up one's job and going into a new venture.

The people who lose these opportunities must stand by and see the "Train to Success and Prosperity" pull away without them because they haven't the necessary fare.

Guard against being left behind by building a cash reserve.

Why it's wise to choose a CHEVROLET SIX!

Choose CHEVROLET for Smoothness . . . .

An important thing to watch for in buying a low-priced car is SMOOTHNESS—and the only way to get satisfactory smoothness is to choose a car with a six-cylinder motor. Six cylinders save the whole car—the engine, the body and the chassis—from the destructive effects of vibration. And they make motoring far more comfortable and pleasant for both driver and passengers. In the new Chevrolet, you get every advantage of six-cylinder smoothness—for it is powered by a great 50-horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine.

Choose CHEVROLET for Beauty . . . .

When selecting a low-priced car, you should also pay particular attention to beauty—for the appearance of your car will determine very largely the pride you take in owning it. Chevrolet brings you the greater beauty of bodies by Fisher—styled by Fisher's famous artist-designers. Long, low and properly proportioned—finished in pleasing colors of genuine Duco—and complete with every feature of modern automotive coachwork—Chevrolet-Fisher bodies introduce a new measure of quality and beauty into the low-price field.

Choose CHEVROLET for Economy . . . .

Another fine thing about owning the new Chevrolet is its remarkably low cost of operation and upkeep. For, with all its six-cylinder smoothness and power, it is just as economical as any car you can buy. It costs no more for oil. It costs no more for tires. It costs no more for service. And, in a recent officially-observed economy test of 40 cars, a Chevrolet Coach won first place—averaging over 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline in a 200-mile run from sea level to an elevation of 6000 feet!

Choose CHEVROLET for Safety . . . .

From the standpoint of safety, it is also wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Chevrolet's fully-enclosed weather-proof brakes assure quick positive stops, rain or shine. A full ball bearing steering mechanism makes it possible to handle the car quickly in emergencies. The safety-type gasoline tank is located in the rear. The new non-glare windshield makes driving safer and more pleasant. And the combination hardwood-and-steel construction of the Fisher bodies is the strongest design known to the body building industry.

Choose CHEVROLET for Modern Design . .

Chevrolet gives you more than the benefits of a six-cylinder motor; its design is equally advanced throughout. Everywhere, you can see the benefits of this modern engineering—in the four-wheel brakes, the hardwood-and-steel bodies, the four long semi-elliptic springs, the positive pressure pump fuel system, the long rigidly-braced frame which supports the body throughout its entire length, and the four hydraulic shock absorbers.

Choose CHEVROLET for Service . . . .

The quality and economy of Chevrolet service are further reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Chevrolet's owner service policy calls for free replacement—including both parts and labor—of any material that may prove defective within the terms of Chevrolet's standard warranty. Chevrolet's flat-rate charges—including both parts and labor—are the lowest in the industry on many service operations. Furthermore, Chevrolet service is available everywhere—for there are more than 10,000 authorized Chevrolet service dealers in America alone.

Choose CHEVROLET for Comfort . . . .

Comfort is another outstanding feature of the new Chevrolet Six. The very fact that it is a Six means greater riding and driving comfort—because six cylinders prevent annoying vibration and drumming. Chevrolet also offers the greater riding ease and road balance of four semi-elliptic springs—set in the direction of car travel. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers are standard equipment on all models. Extra-wide seats and deep, restful cushions are further features that add much to Chevrolet comfort and luxury.

Choose CHEVROLET for Re-Sale Value . .

Sooner or later, every car is exchanged for a new one. Consequently, re-sale value is an important item to consider when selecting a new car. And from this standpoint, it's especially wise to choose a Chevrolet. The big swing is to the Six. And when you buy a six-cylinder Chevrolet you are assured of a car that will be modern tomorrow as well as today. This is an important fact to remember; for obsolete design always lowers re-sale value.

Choose CHEVROLET for Low Cost . . . .

Purely on the basis of low cost, it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six. Priced as low as $495 at the factory, the Chevrolet Six is one of the lowest-priced cars in the world. And this low first cost is emphasized over and over again as the months of ownership go by—in gasoline and oil economy, in inexpensive service, and in the low cost of replacement parts. Thus, from every standpoint, it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six.

DENIES DRY LEAGUE FINANCED VOLSTEAD

General Superintendent McBride Replies to Congressman Tinkham.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, in a statement last night, said:

"The statement of Congressman Tinkham before the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee charging that the Anti-Saloon League had paid the campaign expenses of Andrew J. Volstead, knowing that Mr. Volstead was to introduce the so-called Volstead act and was to be chairman of the committee to which it was referred, is false."

Volstead, as a Congressman from Minnesota, sponsored the prohibition enforcement legislation.

"In the first place," McBride continued, "the Anti-Saloon League did not at any time pay Mr. Volstead's campaign expenses. In the second place, the campaign in which Mr. Tinkham charges the expenditures were made occurred in November, 1920, at least a year after the Volstead act was passed."

"The report upon which he based his charge involved approximately $555 for Anti-Saloon League expense incurred in eight congressional districts. In no case was the expense of any candidate paid. The money was used for services and expenses of regular league workers and included the cost of literature, postage, telephone and telegraph."

"The Anti-Saloon League does not pay the campaign expenses of candidates for public office. Money raised to influence the election of members of Congress is expended for the purpose of informing the voters of the record of candidates and their position upon the prohibition question. This portion of the league's receipts and expenditures is kept distinct, as required by the Federal election laws, and is reported to the clerk of the House of Representatives, as required by law."

"The major portion of the work of the Anti-Saloon League is educational, informing the people that intoxicating liquors are narcotic and habit-forming, in advocating total abstinence, and conducting research upon the social, economic and moral phases of the alcoholic liquor problem and in teaching the duty of the citizen with respect to law observance and enforcement. They do not come within the purview of the Federal corrupt practices act, which relates solely to money spent to influence the election of members of Congress or presidential electors after the nomination is made."

Volstead Says Anti-Saloon League Did Not Finance Him.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 16.—Denial that the Anti-Saloon League had financed his campaign was made today by Andrew J. Volstead, former Representative from Minnesota and author of the prohibition enforcement law.

PLANES COLLIDE, PILOTS AND WOMAN IN HOUSE KILLED

One Machine Crashes Through Roof, Trapping Maid in Room, Where She Is Burned.

CHATEAUBOX, France, April 16.—One woman was trapped in a house and burned to death and two pilots were killed as two military combat planes collided over this city today and crashed into the streets.

One of the planes fell in front of the City Hall, hitting a cabman and slightly injuring him. The pilot was hurled through the roof of a freight car.

The other plane crashed the roof of a house a quarter of a mile distant and trapped a maid in one of the rooms. She was burned to death in the fire which followed the crash. The pilot of this plane was catapulted into the courtyard and killed.

GROCER BOTHERED ALL DAY BY FAKE CALLS AND VISITS

Emil Kern, grocer at 2852 Meramec street, was annoyed yesterday by numerous telephone calls and personal visits from salesmen, repair men and taxicab drivers who had been sent to the store on false messages. Some of the visitors had been told to ask for a "Mr. Pelzer."

The store is across the street from the home of Mr. and Mrs. John de Pelzer, 2855 Meramec, who were bothered by many undesired visitors until their former son-in-law, George W. Fellowes, was arrested for questioning. Fellowes denied being the practical joker in the case. Deportation proceedings are pending against him as an undesirable alien.

Georgia Battleground
To Get Deed to Itself

REMAINS of a line of Confederate breastworks along the Chattahoochee River will be converted into a memorial by dedicating the property to itself.

The breastworks are on the estate of Mrs. C. K. Ayer, Atlanta club woman, who has planned a dedication ceremony to be conducted by the United Daughters of the Confederacy. The works are opposite remains of trenches dug on the other side of the river by Gen. Sherman's forces.

The property will not be the first in Georgia to be dedicated to itself. At Athens an historic oak has been the property of itself for years.

CHAPTER XII

WHEN I think of our first trip to Europe, two things stand out pre-eminently in my mind: First, the crowds that followed us wherever we went, and, second, the dogs we bought.

The crowds are an unpleasant memory. In England we had to fight for our lives. To be the wife of a famous man is not all that it is supposed to be by those who have only dreamed of that role.

As for the dogs—they were great fun. We bought three darling Pekingese in London, six more in Nice, a Doberman Pinscher in Paris—no mention of the coterie of police dogs, wolf hounds, bull pups and Great Danes presented to Rudy along our route by ardent admirers who knew his weakness for the canine species. On our journey home it was as though we were traveling with a menagerie.

But to start at the beginning: We sailed from New York on the Aquitania in August, 1925. The passage over was uneventful. We kept largely to ourselves, taking most of our meals in our private suite. The only passengers with whom we mingled were Mr. and Mrs. George Arliss, with whom we became excellent friends.

Chaperoned Honeymoon.

Auntie traveled with us. We were both so fond of her we wanted her, even though, with our marriage legalised, we no longer required her as chaperon. She left the ship at Cherbourg while Rudy and I went on to Plymouth. Here we fought our way to the London train through mobs that battled for a glimpse of Rudy and in London through worse mobs to the Ritz Hotel.

Here, to our amazement, the management refused us rooms. Just a few weeks earlier, Charlie Chaplin had stopped at the Ritz and, in the publicity that attended his sojourn, every window in the front of the hotel had been smashed and the entire lobby demolished. The manager meant us no offense, as he politely explained, but he wanted no more screen stars.

So we went to the Carlton, where for three days we were literally imprisoned by reporters and photographers. Every journal in the British Isles, from the London Times to an obscure Irish weekly, sent a representative to interview Rudy. Forty-five called the first day, 500 the second and so the third. They lined up in the hall outside our rooms and made it impossible to escape. Each one in turn asked us this question: "What do you think of London?"

Finally we said: "If you don't let us out we'll never be able to answer that question. We haven't glimpsed the streets of London except from the hotel windows."

So the fourth day we dodged them and went sight-seeing.

Loved London's Age.

Rudy loved London because it was so old. He was wild about history; not modern history—he had no interest in that, but he quite wore me out investigating every old ivy-grown castle and tower significant of the days from the Crusader King Richard to the Virgin Queen Elizabeth. This was the era he loved.

Had he lived in those days he would have been hailed a greater man than he was—a knight like Lancelot, perhaps, who could ride valiantly to battle and fight duels for Queen Guinevere or Elaine. Thus he would have satisfied his romantic imagination. As it was, he had to satisfy it playing roles on the screen.

Through a letter of introduction from my parents, in London we became the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Guinness in their spacious home on Great Cumberland place. Mrs. Guinness maintains one of the most interesting salons in London, always filled with interesting people, genius from every walk in life. Among the guests our first night at dinner were Arthur Rubinstein, the pianist, and Lord and Lady Birkenhead.

Evans Score With Peer.

Rudy and Lord Birkenhead, both men of international fame, had never heard of each other until they met under the Guinness roof. They moved in worlds that were far apart. What did Rudy know of the great Englishman who had risen from the obscurity of the Liverpool docks to become a distinguished barrister of the realm, and later Lord Chancellor of Great Britain? And what did Lord Birkenhead know of the motion picture industry?

So by way of polite conversation Lord Birkenhead said to Rudy: "Is this your first trip to London, Mr. Valentino?"

Rudy courteously gave the answer the London headlines had been shrieking for two weeks; then asked with equal innocence: "Have you ever been in America, Lord Birkenhead?"

Lord B. had just returned from one of his many trips to the United States, where his speeches had caused a sensation in diplomatic circles. But what were diplomatic circles to Rudy? Or screen fame to Lord Birkenhead? The rest of us politely stifled our smiles. Rudy admired Lord Birkenhead greatly when he learned he was a great sportsman with kennels and a famous string of racing horses all over Europe. And Lord Birkenhead admired Rudy because he was a wonderful athlete.

From London we made a beautiful motor trip through the English countryside to Windsor and Warwick castles—all the places Rudy had dreamed of. We drove along the hedge-lined roads to Surrey to a place of famous kennels, bounding with Pekingese, and bought three woolly babies, one of which I still have. Of course Rudy spent hours with London tailors, hatters, bootmakers, shirtmakers to his sartorial heart's desire. I had my innings later in Paris.

We flew to Paris from Croyden after three delightful weeks in England. I enjoyed the flight thoroughly, but Rudy was desperately air-sick and in the future was content to stay on the ground.

Risked Lives in Car.

Paris was another round of interviews, sightseeing, shopping and gala entertainment in our honor. Rudy spent most of his time choosing the style and materials for his specially built Voisin racer with its engine geared to 30 miles an hour. Because the car couldn't be ready for several months, the Voisin people loaned us a sport car to use in the interim, in which we motored to the Riviera.

Unfortunately for me, the roads were in perfect condition so Rudy could test the speed of the motor. What matter if both of us were killed while he was engaged in this blissful experiment? Every car on the road ahead of us was an invitation to race past it—and we did. Rudy was a clever driver, but what a reckless one! Our trip was one mad dash through suffocating heat and dust, my screaming protests drowned in the thunder of the cut-out.

The more noise the better he liked it; it gave a greater sensation of speed. Round the curves we dashed at unslackened pace with nothing on the outward side but precipitous depths and far below the sparkling, blue Mediterranean, into which I had no desire to be flung. I like to choose my own time for bathing.

Spirit Saves Lives.

The climax came as we rounded one curve at breakneck speed—apparent nothingness stretched before us. To our horror we saw it was a double curve, a sharp hair-pin turn, which no human skill could make. Rudy wrenched at the wheel and stood on the brakes while death blew its cold breath in our faces. Then miraculously the car bumped to a standstill, one back wheel hanging over the edge of a yawning precipice.

I looked at Rudy. He was trembling and deathly white. In a small shaky voice he whispered: "Did you see Black Feather?"

Being speechless, I could only shake my head.

"I saw him lean over and give the wheel the final wrench that saved us," said Rudy. "I never could have done it alone."

"Without a guardian angel you'd have killed us both long ago," I said when I recovered my voice.

I wanted to have hysterics, if only to teach Rudy a lesson, but he was so shaken by our narrow escape I merely wilted into silence.

At 10 o'clock that night, exhausted, starved, dirty beyond recognition, we reached Juan les Pins and the Hudson chateau, where we fell into the waiting arms of dear Uncle Dickie, mother and auntie. This is a beautiful place which Mr. Hudson bought years ago from a Russian Count who had lost all his money at Monte Carlo.

During the war it was loaned to the Government as an American hospital. Later he and mother redecorated it to use as their permanent home.

Affronted in Homeland.

Rudy was enchanted with it and during our visit was indefatigable. Long before I wakened next morning he was out exploring the grounds; by the time I was dressed for breakfast he had discovered the ideal place for a kennel for his dogs, a bathhouse and an outdoor cinema. As soon as he had made "all that money" we would live here and he would build them all.

But Rudy was ever a restless soul. Before 10 days had passed he decided we must push on to Italy. It was his first visit home in 10 years and he could not wait any longer.

Talked With Dead Mother.

Our entrance to Italy was not auspicious. At Ventimille, the frontier, we were stopped and ordered to show our passports and pass the customs. But the customs had just gone to lunch; the demands of digestion and noisiness required a two-hour lunch period. Meanwhile we waited in the broiling sun. When they finally appeared, Rudy was forced to pay an outrageous tax on a carton of American cigarettes. Our only dutiable possession. When he protested the holdup, an official nudged him playfully in the ribs, winked at me and said something in Italian which I did not catch, but the manner in which Rudy yelled back at him in the same language made me fear a duel.

As Rudy flung himself angrily into the car, he explained to auntie and me that this man had suggested that, after marrying an American heiress, he could well afford to give a few of his dollars to his own country. Because auntie and I laughed heartily Rudy wouldn't speak to us for an hour. The idea of insinuating he would marry for money! Wasn't I as poor as he was? This happened his original ardor at being back home again.

When late at night we reached Genoa, our first stopping place, exhausted as he was from the long drive, Rudy got out pencil and paper to communicate with his mother, whose welcoming presence he had felt all day. Swift messages of love and comfort flew across the pages between mother and son, an adoration which the veil between them could not lessen or divide.

Rudy's father had died when Rudy was only 11 years old. His clearest memory of this parent was when he called his sons to his deathbed, saying: "My boys, love your mother and above all, love your country. Madras! Italia!"

CHAPTER XIII

IF RUDY expected to be received in his native land like a King, he was quickly disillusioned. He was not even a returned hero. Few of the people in Italy had ever heard of his pictures.

Valentino, the agile tango dancer, the sleek, the torador, the idol of a million fluttering hearts in England and America, was to his countrymen nothing more than a sleek, well-dressed young man, very much Americanized, accompanied by a young woman whose clothes spoke of Paris. But if he was disappointed by this lack of recognition, he gave no hint of it.

In reality, he was meted with publicity and adulation, and relieved to be treated like a normal human being again. He did not realize how very American he had become until he reached his native land. Yet he was still sufficiently Italian to choke up with emotion and break into rhapsodies at each familiar scene of his youth.

The first one he saw was the Dante Alighieri College on the outskirts of Genoa, where he had been sent at the age of 11 by his parents, who hoped to make a gentleman of him. Instead, he was the despair of his teachers and his devoted mother. Exuberantly he showed us his very own desk in the schoolroom, and the corner where he had stood so many hours in punishment for his many pranks. The prank that severed his connection with this his first alma mater, was the one whereby he had disgraced himself that day the King passed by.

Fled Cell to Greet King

Knowing Rudolph Guglielmi was the worst mischief maker in school, the teachers were taking no chances that day the King rode through Genoa. They confined him in a basement room and the more securely to confine him, they stripped him.

But young Rudolph broke the prison bars and in a borrowed uniform, many times too large for him, escaped on the school dokey. Proudly mounted on this palfrey, he rode through the streets of the city to a place of prominence in view of the royal procession, shouting lustily as his sovereign went by. "For King and country!"

For this he was promptly sent home to his mother. She kissed him and scolded him in the same breath and hopefully dispatched him to another school, a military college for doctors' sons, in Perugia, Queen of Italian hill cities. Here again he accomplished nothing but the football team, and left a brief year later.

His ambition was to be a cavalry officer and wear the long royal blue cape that made the uniform so picturesque. But family fortunes could not afford this. Cavalry officers draw much attention, but very little salary, so Rudy was sent, instead, to the Royal Academy of Agriculture, where he was trained to be a scientific farmer.

It was here he suffered his first pang of life—romantic romance with Louna, daughter of the dormitory cook. She was his barnyard Juliet; he, her pitchfork Romeo, who serenaded her nightly from the hay until a bound of a teacher ruined his romantic pose by snatching his pitchfork away and threatening him with expulsion.

But, except for this passing misdeed, his record at this school was high. When we drove out there from Genoa, his old teachers greeted him affectionately and bemoaned the changed times that brought them no more pupils like himself.

Meets Juliet and Eight

"The boys in school nowadays are a pack of cowards and fools!" the head master told him. "How often have I said, 'If Guglielmi were only here!' He knew how to handle a bull!"

This compliment pleased Rudy more than a ten of fan mail. He loved cattle; he loved all animals and was proud of "his skill with them."

As we drove back to the city from this school, we passed a little shop, the doorway of which was completely filled by an Italian woman of vast proportions. Hanging to her skirts were some six or eight children, as little difference in these ages as kind Mother Nature would permit. One glance at this madonna, and without a word to auntie or me, Rudy clung to the brakes, leaped from his car and made toward her.

Auntie and I heard a word of inquiry, a glad cry of surprise, much chatter and laughter, followed by an inspection of the children, a pat on the head and a kiss for each one, and Rudy, plus the entire brood, disappeared into the shop. When he returned, laden with bundles—he had practically bought out the shop—he was almost too excited to speak. Could we believe it—that was Louna, his first love, the cook's daughter at the agricultural school? Of course, she remembered him! She had been such a pretty little thing—such eyes and hair! Slender as a wand. Just think! If he had remained in Italy he might be the owner of the shop and father of eight children. But fate plays queer tricks upon us. Such is destiny!

Rudy Idol of Sister.

Rudy was eager to get to Milan, for there he was to meet Maria, his beloved sister, who was to accompany us on the trip. As the time drew near, he grew impatient with joy. Of all his family, Maria was his favorite—except for his mother, of course. Alberto, his brother, two years older, had always looked down on Rudolph, but Maria—ah, Rudy was her idol. He had devoted protector. But at Milan we found no Maria; instead was a telegram at our hotel saying she had gone to Genoa to surprise us—and we had efficiently missed her. Happily, now she was on her way back.

She arrived while we were at breakfast and brother and sister, separated for 11 years, flung themselves into each other's arms, laughed and cried and embraced again, then broke away to look at each other.

But what changes time can bring! Maria was overwhelmed with pride in her handsome, successful brother; but Rudy, though he concealed it tacitly, was rather appalled by the old-fashioned ways and appearance of his darling sister. The queer dress he could remedy and, with his usual generosity, he bought her such clothes as she had never dreamed of owning. Incidentally, he presented her with a box of face powder and a pot of rouge.

Made Over Maria.

Maria eyed the makeup gingerly, meanwhile casting at me suspicious, skeptical glances. My appearance gave her grave concern for her brother's reputation. Did Rudy know what the term "painted lady" signified in Italy? And here was I using lipstick and rouge quite was all that kept me alive for a week. We had a wonderful time in Rome. We visited the old ruins of the Baroque, each with a following of native assistants and interpreters. These directors abouted their orders in their respective native tongues, simultaneously through a megaphone. The result was that of the Tower of Babel. Everyone spoke a different language and understood none other.

New Film in Babel

Our most amusing day was the one when we watched the filming of Quo Vadis, in which Emil Jannings was playing the role of Nero. At first we were very much bewildered. Every time a rehearsal began, pandemonium broke loose. Was this an uprising? Yet the scene was apparently a peaceful one.

Baron Fumini enlightened us. He explained that no one on the set understood anyone's language. There were two directors, one German, one Italian, each with a following of native assistants and interpreters. These directors abouted their orders in their respective native tongues, simultaneously through a megaphone. The result was that of the Tower of Babel. Everyone spoke a different language and understood none other.

Emil Jannings, the star, although American by birth, spoke no other tongue but German. The leading lady was English and the negro slaves who made up the mob, had been imported from Arabia and Egypt.

Jannings, Rudy, Friends.

Since no one understood any order given, no one did anything correctly. Whereupon both directors would lay down their megaphones, tear their hair, implore heaven for help, then, pacified by their respective assistants, start all over again. It looked as though we might be declared between Italy and Germany at any moment. As off the set everything was peaceful.

When we lunched with Mr. and Mrs. Jannings and the principals of this polyglot drama at the Horseshoe gardens, everyone was jovial and friendly. Mrs. Jannings, with an amazing gift for languages, acted as interpreter de luxe. Rudy and Mr. Jannings, seated side by side, got along famously by the language of pantomime.

When it came time to leave Rome I was so exhausted I returned to Nice by train. Rudy, Maria and Auntie motored farther south to the little village of Castelloneta, near Taranto, in the heel of Italy, to see the flat-roofed stone house that was Rudy's birthplace. Here he was to see his brother Alberto.

Alberto I did not meet until he came to the chateau, a year later. Maria returned with Rudy and Auntie to wait us until we sailed home.

Pre-Holiday Profit - Taking Is Well Absorbed and Averages Are Up at Close—Sales Show Decrease.

SEVERAL COPPERS TOUCH 1930 LOWS

Radio Is Heavily Bought and Rises 3 Points—General Electric and Westinghouse Strong.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 17.—Pre-holiday profit taking was well absorbed in today's stock market and prices closed irregularly higher. Total sales fell below 4,000,000 shares, and were the smallest of any full session since March 17. There was little in the day's news to influence market sentiment although Wall Street heard one or two merger rumors. Reduction from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent in the call money rate had a cheerful effect on speculative sentiment.

Spectacular advances took place in a few high priced specialties American Machine & Foundry soared 2 1/2 points to a new high at 27 1/2, and closed at the top. Ingersoll Rand ran up 16 points to a new high at 223. Vanadium Steel closed 11 points higher, J. I. Case 9 1/2, Diamond Match 7, Houston Oil 5 1/2 and Fox Film 5 1/2.

Loans Up $131,000,000.
Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending April 16 were announced after the close of market by the Federal Reserve Board as $4,125,000,000, an increase of $131,000,000 as compared with the preceding week. Analysis of the report shows loans for own account increased $2,000,000, loans for account of out of town banks rose $46,000,000 and loans for account of others increased $83,000,000.

Best & Co., which is reported to be doing a large Easter business and contemplates the opening of new suburban stores, ran up nearly 5 points to a new high at 54. Corn Products showed a net gain of nearly 4 points. Loew's, Electric Power & Light, Checker Cab and Kraft Cheese were among the many issues to show net advances of 2 1/2 to 4 points.

Radio Corporation, which plans to double its stock and turn over the new stock to General Electric and Westinghouse Electric in exchange for their radio manufacturing business, patents and royalties, giving them control of Radio Corporation, was heavily bought, rising 62 for a gain of more than 5 points. Westinghouse and General Electric each closed about 3 points higher.

Some Coppers at 1930 Lows.
Southern Railway, which dipped to a new low level for the year yesterday, rallied nearly 5 points. Boston & Maine dropped 5 points and Atlantic Coast Line, and Chesapeake & Ohio closed about 2 points lower. Several of the copper shares fell to new low levels for the year, making only moderate recoveries from the day's low levels.

Slightly reactionary tendencies developed in the leading commodity markets. Wheat and corn declined fractionally on bearish crop reports. Cotton declined 10 to 50 cents a bale.

Except for a slightly easier note on 90-day loans, the money market held steady with business quiet. Slight reactions took place in many of the leading foreign exchanges, sterling cables ruling about 1/4 of a cent lower at 4.64.

Foreign exchanges opened a little easier, with sterling cables off 1/4 at $4.63 3/16.

Stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on pages 19C, 19D and 17C.

House O R's $538,523,116 Bill.
WASHINGTON, April 17.—The House today approved the $538,523,116 independent offices supply bill after members named by the Senate and House for conference agreed to restore the House version of $1,000,000 for Porto Rico hurricane relief, instead of the Senate amendment raising the amount to $4,000,000.
